Thread: Can a L33T Member Be Denied of Submission, and if so, why?

Bot Products - July 18, 2013, 12:54 pm

Hey there,

Because this wasn't clearly explained in the Help Docs, I was wondering if L33T members can be denied of submission, just like UB3Rs. If so, what are the reasons they may be denied submission? How rare is it for people to be denied?

Thank you.

Thank you. I don't think they get denied, but don't quote me on that.
I believe only Ub3rs are checked and denied/accepted.

No, anyone can buy l33t, as far as I know as long as you have been registered for 3 days, and have 10 posts.

It would be the same qualities that haven't been met when the Ub3r is denied, but instead for L33t. Which I can only assume is a much lower par. I don't think I've heard of anybody being denied L33t lol. You must not be very popular with the Admin ?

They are not denied. You just need to meet the minimum requirements.

There are no requirements to be l33t. However if your payment is flagged as fraudulent you will not be upgraded.
