Thread: Hacking Skyward Student Access \(grades\)

computer_whiz - July 18, 2013, 5:10 pm

Hello world,

I have been looking into hacking skyward in order to change grades. If anyone has any information that would be helpful, feel free to post it here or message me.

Thanks so much

Wopecy - July 18, 2013, 5:14 pm

Dude, Common....It is you're fault you have bad grades...If you hack skyward for you're grades...That is like hacking facebook and telling them it was you that hacked him. If you change you're grades, lols...By posting this thread you clearly don't have any knowledge on the subject of hacking or even hacking a grade counter. Not to be mean, But you just can't start off by trying to hack a program. Try to learn more about things like programming and stuff...Learn what kind of program this "skyward" uses, Learn what kind of website it host. It really not that simple. Curiosity will guide you. Good luck!

TwoFeesh - July 18, 2013, 5:15 pm

I'm pretty sure that this will end badly for you.

Your username is invalid. This post is also very stupid because if you did do it, they would easily find this and use it to press charges against you.

Eson - July 18, 2013, 5:16 pm do not do this. the skyward script keep logging of people who are access it.

i apologise for grammar error, i am italian.

bandors - July 18, 2013, 5:16 pm

When the teacher takes a piss and leaves it on change your test grades. 90% success rate.

The teacher wouldn't have his/her qualifications if he/she was stupid enough to leave the computer unlocked, logged into Skyward.

I don't think teachers expect someone to go to their computer and change their own grades, because it's so unlikely someone would get away with it. And if they do, you just know that shit logs like fuck. Your best chance would be RAtIng the teachers PC, and changing 4/5 student grades (Random people who don't know each other)

blu3 - July 18, 2013, 5:53 pm

I guess you could install a keylogger on your teacher's computer, look for when she logs into skyward, and make sure your through TOR. I would suggest changing other people's grades too, so it doesn't look like it's you. Still will probably end badly.

computer_whiz - July 18, 2013, 6:03 pm

I'm thinking about using burp suite/cain and abel to brute force the form from a LAN computer. I'm not a computer noob- and i have good grades, I'm just looking for advice from a more experienced hacker.

Professors at my collage and teachers from my high school leave them on. There isn't even logs here.

If you want to throw your life away to 30 years in jail for changing your grade from a D to a A then have at it.

Australia - July 18, 2013, 11:55 pm

This will turn your life upside down!!! I suggest quit thinking about.

Trust me in high school if they catch you at the computer just say you're trying to print something. ?

Psyche - July 19, 2013, 12:34 pm

Skyward is so easy to hack dude. First you go to your grades and press alt + f4. You then proceed to burn your computer and pick up a book. Now read the book.

That might just work if the teacher is a monkey with half a brain.

Kangaroo?? - July 19, 2013, 6:00 pm

So you are going to hack them to change your grades?

Yeah that won't be suspicious to them..

Emoticon - July 19, 2013, 6:02 pm

LOL, this will definitely end badly. If you have to use this at all, use a fucking VPN or something, and FFS, change other grades too.

I'd like to advise against doing this, very bad idea in the long-run.

WickedRevenge - July 19, 2013, 6:04 pm

Aha, You'll get caught easily - this isn't a good thing to do the consequences will be bad

Most teachers don't really know about any kind of things like Keylogging, etc so they aren't so concerned about people near their computer. In all reality, OP you could just make a crypted RAT autostart, plug it into your teachers computer, repeat process to someone elses computer, or find one someone didn't log off on and change your grade, and 4 peoples other grades that don't know each other. If they have cameras, time stamps could be matched up. If they have cameras, getting near the teachers computer would be dumb as hell anyway. Just learn the shit, it can't be too hard.

Psyche - July 19, 2013, 7:25 pm

Pro tip: There is such thing as hardware keyloggers... If you have access to the keyboard, you can just plug it up and retrieve it another day.

MintySyrup - July 19, 2013, 9:18 pm

The way my buddy changed his was just a simple keylogger. Simple as hell.

I've used such things in the past and they are effective. Do research before you buy one, make sure it's the right type. If you can, get one that automatically forwards the logs. Make god damns sure that be the end of the year, or earlier, you remove it. Red flags will fly faster then in nascar if an IT worker sees it.

Thing is, if you're willing to risk adding this to the back, why not just click a few buttons if they left the system on?

Most teachers in high school do not have brains, and some professors do not.

When you change grades, do not just change your own, and don't make it too noticeable.

ScriptKat - July 19, 2013, 11:06 pm

This would be an extremely hard task OP and before even thinking about attempting this, I would suggest familiarize yourself with this "skyward" program and the schools security system. Honestly, I wouldn't even attempt because as of right now, I know you're not skilled enough to get away with this. Goodluck anyway OP

Jesews - June 15, 2015, 8:36 pm hes asking for a way to do it douchebags, not giving them a life lesson. Me personally used a shadow keylogger to save the keystrokes and get the log in info. Once i go the login info i logged in from my computer at home . From there i chnged my grade by 12 point going up and a couple of others up as well so it wont look suspicious. If you really want to mess with the teacher, change all the grades for everyone to 69. I did that on the last day of school. :DDD ? ? ?
