Thread: Split sports world in 1 forum

Muhammad Ali - July 23, 2013, 3:09 pm

Hi, i think sports world should be splitted out from the lounge to 1 forum in the general section. It should have 2 child-boards:

Ball sports
Combat sports

And in the main forum you can discuss anything outside these.

The reason i suggest this is because the forum is loaded with american football and Basketball garbage which i personally dislike, so i hope to see other threads than that. It should be splitted.

Just because you dislike it doesn't mean it is overbearing. The content seems to be evenly divided between football, basketball, soccer/football, and then a mix of MMA/Baseball/Muscle. I think forum prefixes would be much more useful, rather than dividing the content up.

What do you mean by combat sports? Most sports involve a ball, and those that don't (that I can think of) don't really involve combat.

Wrestling, track, weight lifting, etc. don't belong in there, so what would? MMA?

Much better idea.

Suggest prefixes here.
