Thread: Cheap Proofreading {\$1 per 100 words}

Kewlhotrod - April 13, 2010, 9:11 pm

Hello all. I am providing a cheap proofreading service for those that have an assignment, application, or simple story that needs proofreading.

My grammar is top notch, and that will reflect in your writing. I guarantee high class results with no mistakes. If I do leave a mistake, I will refund 20% of what you paid.

This will be $1 for every 100 words. We will round up at *33 words. In other words if your essay is 133 words or more, you will pay me $2.

I will also take special requests for certain grammatical assignments and/or activities.

I can tell this will be an excellent service. Seems like you have perfect grammar. Good luck with your service, although you probably don't need it.

I might need your proofreading service later this week, as I have a paper to write on The New Deal. Hopefully you'll have this service next year to proofread my Senior paper. :D

Again, good luck. :D

Redundancy. I love it, lol.

But seriously, thanks.

I can assume that Kewlhotrod has proficient knowledge, so good luck to you my dear fellow.

Kewlhotrod, what do you think about the vocabulary and the structure of my sentence? I'm joking, good luck.

Correct assumption. I take pride in my grammatical abilities.

And your sentence appears to be in a correct sentence syntax with correct spelling.

Bump.

Service is still up. Always will be. Someone use it, lol.

Lasso - April 15, 2010, 3:27 pm

Sounds like a good service.
Might start one similar, but not proofreading.
Wouldn't want to steal your idea. ;)

Bumping your thread man. You need some more recognition for this, imo.
