Thread: How do you get your own dedi shells for a shell booter?

Ha Haaa - August 7, 2013, 4:10 am

Just wondering how I can get my own private dedi shells for myself?
Like how do you get them? Not copying ones from pastebin or whatever.

I'm kinda confused. Like a shell is just a URL, but where do you find those urls?

Who's the hoster of your servers? I imagine you didn't buy server racks and host them in your basement. If you do then props to you believe it or not i actually am working on just that these are currently servers ive been granted ownership to sell but i have been talking about rack ownership with a big company for a few weeks

@OP, u use the server to upload the shell once u upload the shell it creates a url, a personal url u more or less make/create
