Thread: 1000 Posts in ~5 years! 103 days and 5 years is full! :\)

Qmz_ - August 7, 2013, 1:12 pm

Just wanted to make a thread on this, I wouldn't usually do.

I registered here 2008, didn't log in until earlier this year, when I came back from army and wanted to learn vb.net. It leaded me here and I remembered that I have an account here :) Since then I've been active here, and bought leet. :)

Has been great ~6 months, and I hope it will continue.

When I registered here 2008, I only remember that Omniscient had different name, this forum had old -ish theme and the activity was waaaay smaller in the forums. And I wanted to learn XSS ?

Should request uber when I get money again to my paypal ?

It's 103 days and I've been here FULL 5 years! ?

Anyways, just wanted to make short "milestone" -thread. :)

Sorry for grammar, been awake for how long and going to sleep -->

Welcome back to the forum! I only joined last year, so I am pretty new!

Elegant - August 7, 2013, 1:18 pm

In 5 years I'll have like 30k posts or something.

? That's like starting a project, having someone else complete it, and then saying you did it. You haven't really been here for five years.

He's been registered for 5 years. That's essentially the same thing.

It's your opinion :) But I have. I'm glad Factor8™ restored my account ?

Kotei - August 7, 2013, 1:26 pm

Apparently none of you understood the comparison. Your account has existed for five years, yes. But you yourself have not actively been apart of the forum for five years as you've been away for a few years. It doesn't really matter, but just sayin'. It's cheatin'. :c

Jet??? - August 7, 2013, 5:10 pm

I bet Vitani's Mate is looking at this like "I can get that in a week".

YuAreLegend - August 7, 2013, 5:12 pm

Welcome back to the forum dude!:D

Also, nearly hit the 100 mark on REP!:o

Rayzah - August 7, 2013, 5:12 pm

Welcome back man. 5 years is a long time! Cool milestone

#Reliant - August 7, 2013, 5:12 pm

I joined this year, I hope to be apart of HF for 5 years, its a long ways though :/

Congrats!

Gustav. - August 7, 2013, 7:19 pm

You've apart of HF for a long time,

I'm sure you can hit the 10 year mark mate ?

oz@bsd - August 7, 2013, 8:00 pm

Great to see you interested in programming. But you're not a 5 year member, don't lie. Your account is 5 years old, sure, doesn't mean you're a 5 year member...Well in my opinion anyways.

lostaccountchevrolet - August 7, 2013, 8:02 pm

Thta is ONE LONG ASS time to be here damn

True, it is your opinion. I was active back then, but then I just forgot this site for a while and now I've been here for ~6 months. :)

Welcome back to the forum, congratulations on your 1,000 posts, and 100's REP.

You are in the wrong mate, he exactly said he has been registered since 2008.

Nice work having an account from 2008.

His account was created in 2008, and he just now recently got back after several years. So what he is saying is he wouldn't know everything that went on between the years he wasn't active. He was only active in 2008 and in 2013 (now). Not sure why that's so hard to understand. Swoosh. So if you want to get technical, he as only been an active member for at most 2 years. Probably more in the months.

OT: Glad to see you returned!

From the army? nice man. Did you just do a leap year or what? give me some info!

I'm glad someone understood what I was saying. ? Either way, it's nice to see someone return to the forum after all these years.

Impulse - August 8, 2013, 10:47 am

It's great to see older members still around, you've seen it all!

pubmaster - August 8, 2013, 10:49 am

I was active in 2007 and 2008, but on other account.

You rarely see oldfags these days.

ViN - August 8, 2013, 12:40 pm

Hack Forums has indeed changed a lot since back then. I love seeing old school people (oldfags) still here.

?harizard - August 8, 2013, 12:43 pm

A fellow 08 member! I've been here a full 5 years already. I didn't post nearly as much you.

Hedex - August 8, 2013, 12:57 pm

Welcome back, dude. I never rarely see members that joined in 2008. Anyway, good that you're active again. :)

I believe that Omni"s name was Omni or something like that back then. Anyways, welcome back to the Forums and I wish you luck on your Future endeavors.

It was labrocc.a Without the . labr.occa is changed to Omni

King Exchanger - August 8, 2013, 6:52 pm

He got all powerful and changed his name from Labrocc a to Omniscient.
