I just bought a vendetta mask, what else should i buy?

Devote - August 8, 2013, 5:24 am

Buy juggling balls! Its one of the best things I've ever bought, so many things you can learn/do. It increases gray matter in the brain by 20%+

Its a great investment, and is a hobby you can keep doing. When I'm bored, or waiting for something, Ill always pick up the balls and practice.

Look on google for the information from studies on the benefits from juggling.

A dock for your phone. Just got mine today :3

I have a Vendetta mask too, I bet everyone on HF has one.

Not a problem! And they're dirt cheap, like on ebay i got mine for like 6$ for 3 balls. I need to get another order though, cause 3 is proving to be no challenge :P

(I've been juggling for like a year now, periodically.)

Is this the type that you bought?

http://www.ebay.co.uk/itm/COLOURED-JUGGLING-BALLS-LEARN-TO-JUGGLE-SET-of-THREE-3-CIRCUS-TOYS-/160749940133?pt=UK_Toys_Games_Outdoor_Toys_ET&hash=item256d716da5

They're only £1, will they be shitty ones?

Devote - August 8, 2013, 5:34 am

Yep, those are the kinds I have. And nope! They're perfect, just circular palm sized balls.

Make sure you look on youtube how to juggle properly, start with 2, because there is a certain form to do it, that most people screw up the order before they even start.

Going to work, so ill check this thread when i get back, PM me if you have any questions! :)

Devote gave me an idea on what you should buy alongside your juggling balls, maybe a yo-yo? They're hella-cool once you figure out how to do tricks and stuff with them

SOS. - August 8, 2013, 5:45 am

Thanks for the ideas, just bought them juggling balls. :D

You bet wrong, not many people have one. Get something cool like clothes or something which would amuse you.
