????????Summer Shut-In!????????
The Summer Anime Challenge

Welcome to this weeks Summer Shut in Thread! Here you can discuss anything about whatever you've watched, or plan on watching this summer. The discussion is unlimited, post whatever you want, and get a good discussion going!

If you're new to this challenge, I suggest you check out the original thread.

Everyone's episodes and chapters won't be updated until the end, so don't worry about it being out of date. This just shows everyone's starting point.

That is the list of airing shows this season, you should keep up with all of those.

You can also check my reviews, and watch all of the good ones from there!

On top of that, check my MAL, or the MAL of other members who posted in the original thread for highly rated shows.

Good luck to everyone participating, and enjoy your summer!

Its been a slow week, not many amazing turn of events in anime. Everything has been progressing as it usually does. Blood Lad is getting better and Mushibugyou is going well.

I finished up Toradora and now I picked up Tomako Market after putting it on hold for like 4 months (I don't like to drop shows). I really wasn't looking forward to watching it, but It's not actually that bad.

After this, I need to pick up Fate/Zero again.

Nam Duong - August 10, 2013, 3:59 pm

Can't wait for Blood Lad ep 6. It's starting to pick up. Also need to watch Shingeki when it finishes too >.>

Kina - August 10, 2013, 4:11 pm

I have been watching soo much. I have gone through like 400 episodes in a week and a half. Finished so much good stuff. Just wish CrunchyRoll had everything.

Why is it Attack on Titan always gets good a the end of the episode? While the beginning drags out.

Weary - August 10, 2013, 9:19 pm

I finished Kiss X Sis & started heavily on Sword art Online. I'm on episode 11 of that now. I'm having heaps of fun with Anime, I'm very glad I found it.

Still gaming too much, but at least now I'm up to date with the ongoing series. :)
