Could any one give me a hand on tv , I have setup most of it but I am having trouble with building my server.

It means one of your programs are being a bitch and stealing that port

You better reclaim dominance and Ahniliate the process

Or you can chicken out and hide under another port

That port's being used by another program.

I recommend pf'ing 1604.

1604 is usually the standard for Dark Comet.

I have tried using different ports , even the ones you guys recommended but it is still not working.
Could any one please help me on tv.

I can help you via Join me, I would suggest port 5050.

I've used that port since the start of my ratting career, it's fast and unused.
