I know its basic, but just check to see if you might have a firewall running, that can cause your slaves not to show up.

www.canyouseeme.org and put the port in that your slaves are on , and see what it says , it might be a port problem, saying that you can go onto your portforward on your router settings and re do the portforward thing and shit, maybe your no-ip dns has been reported?or maybe your no-ip duc is not using the right dns ? check all your settings it could be a minor error
