Thread: VB Program Email Spam Help

28218 - August 17, 2013, 11:12 am

Hello everyone, i need some help, I am making a program for my work where when people visit, they can go on a computer and log in using the program, this is all working fine, however it is also set to send the user a email with more information on us.

It was working perfect until about 300 people had used it. now Gmail is saying "Technical details of permanent failure:Message rejected" it is thinking it is sending spam. , how do i make it not bounce the email back? what is the best email provider to use?

Any help would be great

Thanks.
