Thread: Official Tools

Omniscient - August 28, 2013, 1:04 pm

If let's say HF had some official tools like IP Lookup, resolvers, text editors or other tools that you guys might use that would be on the site. What tools would you like to see most?

Renowned - August 28, 2013, 1:05 pm

I would love to see an IP Lookup and resolver.

How about a text encrypter/decrypter too?

Fortune - August 28, 2013, 1:06 pm

Skype resolver, IP lookup, notepad, IP tools in general. Thanks Omni!

Rasmus - August 28, 2013, 1:06 pm

A booter ?

Would be nice.

Oh, and as

MrRyan123FTW - August 28, 2013, 1:06 pm

I would like to see lots of resolvers :3

Time? - August 28, 2013, 1:06 pm

I'd like to see resolvers also. Might be cool :)

(Aug 28, 2013 01:06 PM)Mark $ Fortune Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Skype resolver, IP lookup, notepad, IP tools in general. Thanks Omni!

There's already a notepad in UserCP.

But yes, it would be good for an iplookup and resolver.

Industry - August 28, 2013, 1:07 pm

I think the IP lookup plugin seem's useful. A resolver, now that may just be problematic.

indecisiveenough - August 28, 2013, 1:07 pm

Don't think he is going to add a Skype resolver as that's illegal correct?

ItsATumor - August 28, 2013, 1:07 pm

I think having something like that would encourage some behaviour that is not the sites complete purpose. Getting rid of resolvers would be my suggestion, but anything else that could be used for good things would be a great addition. Not every person here is to learn to resolve IP's, and there are many other tools out in the public.

IP lookup is fine, but as Industry said, this could give a negative reputation to the site. People coming here just to resolve things.

Tenaxium - August 28, 2013, 1:07 pm

I would pay a small fee for this if needed, or maybe this would be a great ub3r/l33t feature.

Here are some ideas.

- Skype Resolver
- DNS Resolver
- Geo Location IP Lookup
- A few encryption and decryption methods
- l33t Talk encrypter and decrypter (Like here: <http://www.ioyu.com/io/javascript/l33t.asp>)

Edit: Love Hexicidals idea. We should pay a small fee ($15?) To have these on site. We should also get a tool award? Like a screw driver? Who knows?

Hexicidal - August 28, 2013, 1:07 pm

Create a VIP package that allows for constant use of these tools and a special award for them.

indecisiveenough - August 28, 2013, 1:09 pm

Ya I'm curious if you would charge for the tools or not?

Roger Waters - August 28, 2013, 1:09 pm

I think some resolvers, lookups and stressers would be pretty sweet, but before these come out I'd like to see the vouch system, new rep system, 3p1c, the mobile app, and some of the things we've been wait for a while to come finished.

Tonight - August 28, 2013, 1:10 pm

Personally I'm going to say we don't need tools as it will bring unnecessary drama and more workload on Omni.

Perhaps bring out the new features we've been waiting on for ages like the vouch system, updated rep system, 3p1c, gauth, etc before starting a new project?

Or add the new features to the Ub3r package, it would probably increase profits, as people would be more inclined to pay for l33t and then Ub3r, rather than try to milk the Ub3r community, or make a whole new package. Just thinking...

Morchid - August 28, 2013, 1:11 pm

Text editor, I think would fit in quite nicely.

Basic resolvers and IP/DNS look ups would be awesome too.

Could always add another $2-$5 to 3p1c and make it a feature.

R?gicide - August 28, 2013, 1:11 pm

This would sound like an ub3r only feature? But as everyone else said, ip tools would be great.

How about adding them to 3p1c???

These seems possible to implementing into it imo.

RDCA - August 28, 2013, 1:12 pm

I know that you don't want a calender because of security reasons, but a calender is still a nice idea imho. I would also like to see some things like to see a hacker/security related news feed based on Google results of the time. That is a pretty cool idea.

Skorp - August 28, 2013, 1:12 pm

I don't think a resolver would be good, the bads of that idea outweigh the goods.

Text editors with syntax highlighting. I would donate for that shit.

Thanks Omni.

Port Scanner

Language Conversion Tool (For languages such as VB.Net -> C#)

No resolvers.

Admin Page Finder

File Scanner

Notepad that supports syntax's and parses/highlights your code for several programming languages, similar to notepad++ and pastebin.

Things that can actually be useful for security / programming purposes, rather than tools that teenage blackhat "hackers" will use to boast and increase their e-popularity, but in reality they have no idea what they are doing.

@Omni

+ Geo Location

+ Resolvers

+ Code Bracket Fixer; I'm sure there's one around here somewhere - although I'm pretty sure you'd rather make it yourself as you don't like external addons and shit.

TM88 - August 28, 2013, 1:22 pm

Coding dictionary,

Exploit finder,

Crypter, etc.

Raz?r - August 28, 2013, 1:24 pm

You shouldn't waste your time with tools that nearly nobody will use in the end in my opinion, tbh.

Bridge - August 28, 2013, 1:25 pm

Keep it simple, don't dive too deep into resolvers and such. If I remember correctly this site was trying to drift away from it's old blackhat ways, supplying tools for kids to use to do such would only lower the standard of this forum, as if it hasn't already sank enough. As for tools, I don't really see any use for them. A simple `pkd_add -rv` will get me any text editor I want, and if I need an IP lookup, I'd just use one of the thousands of free ones. As for Resolvers, I don't even think that should be an option. If you want to release some tools, get a couple GOOD devs, and whip up some tools and brand it as an HF toolset, sell it, profit, and leave it at that.

Yes, I'd rather have something like this when there isn't any projects needing to be finished that were started a while back.

RDCA - August 28, 2013, 1:32 pm

This compared to Omniscient's other projects is quite a different story. These should be much easier, hopefully. I don't think Omniscient would take up a very, very large project in the midst of the others at the moment. Plus not everything people are suggesting will be implemented. Though I do see how these tools can seem be very trivial and useless. It seems like a nice idea, but what is the actual practicality.

Sir - August 28, 2013, 1:34 pm

I don't really see this as necessary to be honest, I'd rather see more time be put into the Vouch system than bringing tools to HF. But that's just me, regardless do what you wanna do my man.

I second this.

There are no tools which couldn't be found on google within 1 minute.

If I had to make a decision, I would choose an IP locator.

Para?more - August 28, 2013, 1:35 pm

A good geolookup and ip lookup good come in handy

P???ce - August 28, 2013, 1:37 pm

A FUD Crypter :) I know it's a time consuming tool but that's of the standard of HF ;)

A vpn which shouldn't be blocked at HF :D

Automatic Coding - August 28, 2013, 1:37 pm

I'd love to see a HF resolver, type in a HF member's username and get their entire IP history. Not only that, but maybe even a session hijacker! You type in their username, next time they login, it PMs you with their session ID.

That'd be great.

I'd personally use:

Hash encrypters (text to MD5 and others)

Ping target port (like <http://ping.eu/port-chk/>)

Some pastebin alike service

Omniscient - August 28, 2013, 1:40 pm

I'm not going to add anything like a Skype resolver or booter obviously. When I mentioned resolver I meant like an IP lookup tool or DNS resolver.

Quote:Edit: Love Hexicidals idea. We should pay a small fee ($15?) To have these on site. I'd make them available to ub3r/3p1c.

There would be no award for these. That's ridiculous.

Quote:Personally I'm going to say we don't need tools as it will bring unnecessary drama and more workload on Omni.

I actually want to add them because I constantly use them and I have most of these already written out. I just have to make them into MyBB pages which is fairly quick for me.

Quote:I know that you don't want a calender because of security reasons, but a calender is still a nice idea imho.

MyBB comes with it but I disable it. Not really into adding it again.

Not sure I want someone to see us scanning ports and plus it would open up a security risk as you could get server IPs.

Most of them I use myself. That's why I want to add them for everyone.

I was talking about a special VPN for Omniscient to list on site.

Cryptic™ - August 28, 2013, 1:40 pm

Tbh all of this already exists and there are tons of threads on HF about them....their all public.

Maybe add it as a feature for epic I guess.

webdev77 - August 28, 2013, 1:40 pm

The only feature I could see possibly pretty useful is a pop up for users with less than 100 posts to tell them to search before posting a thread that has been created five times over.

An encryption/decryption tool might be kind of cool if it were using unique encryptions specific to HF. That would be time consuming to write though.

Yasuð - August 28, 2013, 1:43 pm
