So I am starting a file hosting website that works by users having to pay for a file to download it. Here is my current design that I have been working on tonight. Let me know what you think.

I have check the site out the front page looks very nice. The theme looks very nice but when i view a item on your site it then all goes down hill. Ill give you a example your selling a item called "EBook - Make money fast!" you click it and it then takes you to a white page with the title and a buy now button. Maybe you should use the front page theme for your buy.php has well ?

I have also noticed your running your paypal buy buttons on sandbox ??

Thanks :) Yeah they buy.php page still hasn't been designed yet :P I have only managed to do to the index first. I will also be removing the buy now button and adding my own. And yes I am running on sandbox at the moment for testing purposes.
