Thread: [\[REVISED 11/11/2013\] Ultimate Compliation of Trusted Sellers and their Products on HF](#)

jameess242 - September 2, 2013, 7:30 am

Got a section you have not seen here? Think a product/service should be listed? Trusted member gone rogue? Post and I will review and update the thread.

LAST REVISION: 11/11/2013

Hello HF.

A lot of new members are ripped off everyday, so I thought creating a list like this would give new members an outlook on who are a good choice to do a deal will hopefully not get ripped off. I update this every few weeks so I appreciate those who contribute to the thread and post their suggestions for the next revisions.

Thank you and enjoy!

Changes in the last 24 hours:

- Final cuts have been made. Over 30 sellers were removed since the original post
- Added valid scam/disputes next to members names...keep in mind they are usually minor reason being they are all still on the thread

[X] = X number of VALID scam/dispute reports.

Keep in mind I only keep those with minor or solved reports on this thread, it is rare a true scammer is seen here or someone who has successfully scammed another HF member...

How do I determine if scam reports/disputes are valid?

- Whether they are closed or open
- Whether they were resolved or not
- Whether the buyer was compensated or if the seller has not responded
- If the report is blatant fake with no proof added

Doing a big (or little) exchange or are you suspicious about a deal? USE A MIDDLE MAN!

Also, you left out the Gamertag section.

(Sep 2, 2013 07:49 AM)- Sam - Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) How can you say they are trusted, because they have high amounts of posts in a single thread?

You should remove this before someone gets scammed by one of the mentioned members above, you will get the blame.

It is your own choice if you do deals with these people. These threads all have valid vouches and have many sales, that is exactly why I chose them.

I also put middle men up there for a reason.

You cannot blame me for someone else's decisions, this is just a guide to show people who is currently trusted and doing well around the forum, I'm not saying you have to buy off of them!

(Sep 2, 2013 07:50 AM)Info Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Not sure this thread is a right representation of trusted sellers.. ?

- All have not scammed once
- All are offering valid services
- All are proving to sell and give products/services legitimately...

I don't see which part of that isn't trustworthy :)

Judging by the people on the list, you just went to each section and grabbed everyone on the first page who has the most thread reply's. Actually that's incorrect. I browsed through 10 pages of each section that way I got all the active threads. I wasn't going to pull threads that haven't been posted in for months.

THE LIST WILL BE UPDATED WITHIN 24 HOURS WITH THE FOLLOWING ASPECTS:

- New Gaming section
 - More users who are trusted added to the thread - Suggest yours now!
- thanks!

Changes in the last 24 hours:

- More users cut from exchange section, crypting section and middle man section
- Users who are not worthy of being in the 'trusted sellers' thread have been cut

More users are currently being cut off the list, I am heavily moderating and searching for scam reports which are major enough to pull a member off of the list.

No, I have based them on:

- Whether they were resolved or not
- Whether the buyer was compensated or if the seller has not responded
- If the report is blatant fake with no proof added

This post is completely unrelated to the current content, so your agreement to his post is actually invalid

The thread now contains only trusted members, and it is proven that they are

And also, just because you bought his VPN that does not mean he is trusted and you also contradicted yourself, as Sam just stated they aren't legit just because they have high sales volume or posts in a thread

'Random User' - I am a user of HF just like anyone else, and I am contributing...Are you trying to say I do not have a right to contribute?

And "so called trusted people"...I have done my research to those who have done high amounts of trades/deals/sales and I have researched those who have scam reports against them...These people have passed with flying colors and therefor are classified as trusted.

When I say random, I mean just that. If it was a staff member, fair enough. But who are you to say who is trusted and who isn't?

Enjoyed reading, bookmarked for future reference, although you may want to add more sellers and detailed reviews.

I'll review them...usually someone who hasn't got enough reputation/posts and/or hasn't sold enough or haven't gotten many vouches OR have a major report against them don't get listed here

jamesss242 - October 10, 2013, 2:50 am

A few scam reports have been resolved, and a few have arisen. I have cleared a few members and lowered their warning rating as they have resolved their reports.

Anyone else have any updates? Post them and I'll update the thread ASAP!

I closed my homework service recently with my current workload, I'll probably reopen in a few months. Thanks for having me up here though.

As for other trusted services, I think JSquared is pretty good with his homework. Any others are mostly just shotty knockoffs that sales trash :p

Anyways nice thread OP, gl

In the Social Media Section You Should add this thread:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3168442> Instead of paying for views and subs, you can just buy enhance views credits from this guy and bot your own views. I have made at least 5 purchases from him and all are delivered on time. The Prices can't be beat either. He charges 20$ for over 250$ worth of enhance views credits. That's some serious views to be done! In my opinion this is the best option for social media services.

And that's the flaw, not to mention he could add his mates to it, and half the people up there aren't really that trusted.

That's a load of shit

Do you not see the scam report count next to the name?

I only add proven trusted products that deliver and users who have incurred next to 0 reports or have 0 on their name at the moment

Do you think I have 50 HF mates and I just made a list to promote them all?

Stop spinning stories seriously

jamesss242 - October 16, 2013, 1:33 pm

Seen a lot of scam reports this week

Not looking good for newbies and others who were close to qualifying

Putting this up for future reference

With all the amazing products on HF of course I haven't been able to get through them all!

Send me a PM with your product an ill review and most likely add you to the list since I don't see any scam reports on you

It is better than getting scammed by someone who isn't CURRENTLY trusted.

We can't predict the future, so we have this thread for people at this current point in time who are trusted...If they do scam, I'll simply remove them!

Thank you!

This is just not a good idea. I think a who to avoid list would be 100x better. It's the same people scamming over and over almost all the time nowadays.
