Our servers are gonna get upgraded. That means there are gonna be better out boundary traffic and even more IP adresses will be available.

That also clarifies that we are on a maintenance. This might take a couple of days, once we upgraded our servers we will give all our customers a week extra subscription to enjoy the benefits of our VPN. As always sorry for any inconveniences.

Before you read; I'm not here to trash sales. I have bought this VPN 2 times and am here to state my honest opinion and experience.

This by far is the worst VPN I have ever used. When I first bought it the autobuy didn't work. Then when I had bought the VPN there were atleast 7-10 days of downtime. That is like 30%!

Furthermore I am not sure if the servers really did have a 10gbps port switch, as speeds were horrible.

I tried this VPN again like a month back, but it seemed like nothing had improved.

Hello Raizo,

You can express your honest opinion here don't worry. If you did bought this VPN a month ago and did not work properly, I'm sorry for that but I didn't own RoyalVPN back then. However we did have an upgrade maintenance which has been successfully processed and the days that we couldn't provide our customers have been refunded.

Our servers improved when we upgraded it. There are now more IP Addresses available and we do have a protection of at least 10Gbps.

'An0ny - October 20, 2013, 6:20 am

Woah I've used this VPN For a quiet while, I've been using it on my Playstation 3 & My windows 8 computer. I've never been happier with any VPN That I've tried, I have used serval other VPN's that are supposed to be RoyalVPN's "Competitors" but at this moment I can't say there are any competitors of RoyalVPN. I've tried them all, and RoyalVPN is the only one that blew up my exceptions, I expected it to be slow like all other HF VPN's that I have used, but this one must of been the fastest one.

I can watch YouTube Videos, Game, Stream, Download & Upload with an Amazing speed! I'm living in Norway, and the connection to the VPN is amazing for me, there is no lag either. While I've been using it, I never noticed any kind of downtime on it.

My upload, download and ping is the exactly same while wearing the RoyalVPN... The only difference is that I can browse Anonymously on the internet, and unlocking websites that I normally can't access because they've banned me or country blocked.

I'm a proud customer of RoyalVPN. Speed: 10/10

Support: 10/10 (I don't need support, it's been working fine for me 24/7)

Uptime: 10/10 (Never been down for me)

Easy Enabling/Disabling the VPN: Yeah, definitely, No more 3rd party software!

Big Vouch from AnonyWS, I'm really satisfied, Great High Quality Product's Skiezo™!

After using Royal VPN for a while I want to leave a feedback. I really never had a speed issue with this VPN! 99,99% uptime is not true, it is 100% up for me. Since Skiezo is hosting this sales thread I'm sure that all my logs are not saved as promised. Downloaded so many movies with Royal VPN, the speed stays the same! It is really user friendly and I'm just amazed by how this is runned. Huge vouch for Skiezo, if you need a VPN than I recommend everyone to try Royal VPN out! ?

Skiezo™ - October 20, 2013, 8:16 am

Thanks so much for the vouches guys! Really appreciated for sure.

Stev - October 20, 2013, 11:19 am

I have been using RoyalVPN for almost a year now and let me tell you what I like about it:

- RoyalVPN uses L2TP VPN Protocol which is one of the safest VPN protocols, ensuring me that the connection encryption is very strong.

- I can use RoyalVPN also on my iPhone and Android device.

- The speed is amazing, I can still play online games while connected to it.

- Amazing customer service by Skiezo.

With that being said, RoyalVPN is one of the best VPN's on the (HF) Market, guaranteeing speed, security and anonymity.

A big vouch from Stev ?

This VPN is amazing, won one month from a contest, thanks Skiezo!

I just got one problem...

When I'm on my school I can't connect to the VPN because my school's internet doesn't allow me too, is there any way to bypass their block? Also again, amazing vpn...

Oh so you are telling me I'm not helping my customers out on being able to connect? Well unfortunately for you.. It's up and the servers are fine, I'm able to connect to the VPN. I don't know what the hell you are doing wrong.

(Oct 31, 2013 03:20 AM)drewkasp Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I want to know if it does Portforward?

Once you connect to the VPN all the ports will become available for use.

That means if you listen any port on a Software, it should be port forwarded.

Make sure to shut down the Security off your computer or make a exception on your Antivirus for your Software because it might block the port if canyouseeme.org doesn't show your port.

(Nov 4, 2013 05:12 PM)drewkasp Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The portforwarding is not working, its as simple as that, the vpn is ok but it doesnt portforward.

Please don't post bull-shit on my sales thread okay? First of all there is no need to Port Forward because once you connect to the VPN all the ports are available.. no.. that doesn't mean CanYouSeeMe.org says that a port is open.. but it means that you can listen the port on a RAT or whatever you want to have port forwarded.

Besides that you need to make sure everything is okay on your side (Antiviruses/Windows Firewall shut down) to prevent blocking the port connections which makes CanYouSeeMe.org says that its not open!

So if that is good as well, the port is successfully open.

Thanks for the positive feedback. Unfortunately people only post when it's down for a bit of maintenance and be complaining that its not working. That's how it makes our product looks bad sometimes. However it's always up and if there is a maintenance it is short.

RoyalVPN still up and working just fine! If you have questions, do not hesitate to PM me!

Hey need some help/suggestions if someone can do so.

I had this working yesterday a few minutes after I bought it, after I was done testing it out (which it worked awesome btw) I shut off my computer for the night.

I woke up this morning to test it some more, and now I can't connect to the Internet.

It'll connect to the VPN, then it'll say Limited on my WiFi, but then it connects to my WiFi and says Internet Access on RoyalVPN but No Internet Access on my WiFi

I did that trouble shooting thing on Windows, and it says the DNS Server can't be reached on my WiFi.

But why would that happen over night? Any ideas?

UnknownManage - January 21, 2014, 7:31 am

I might just be interested in this for sure I will defiantly purchase when i get the cash rounded up

Redwall - January 22, 2014, 1:00 am

I just purchased this, the payment process was quick how ever when I'm connected to the VPN it won't let me access websites also tried this on my mobile and I seem to be having the same type of issue.

I messaged you as well hoping to get this resolved.

If it asks you for a some kind of extra password make sure to enter: royalvpn.com

I have no clue what is happening there, this might be because of the WiFi you are using.

I have private messaged and hopefully that'd be the right solution for you.

Vouch for this vpn!

I did buy and receive it in 1 minute.

It got great speeds (It got the same speed as my normal home connection)

Speedtest (VPN):

http://www.speedtest.net/result/3310051379.png

Also are the vpn upload results the same as the download results of the vpn!

It also got cheap prices for this great speed :)

The IP does change everytime you reconnect.

Big vouch!

Not really cool to trash a sales thread like that, you could PM me for this.

You have to make sure that "Send all traffic over VPN" is marked.

Could OP answer my question via PM?

I did send you a question yesterday :p

Thankss

I really like Royal VPN. I even use it on my phone, thats awesome!

Hashin - February 20, 2014, 5:00 pm

I purchased Royal VPN, got the e-mail with my username and password yet when I try to log-in to either the VPN site or the VPN it's self I can't. It tells me I have an invalid username or password.

The e-mail states the user and pass I signed up with but doesn't work.. any help?

After doing some investigation, I have considered taking the following actions:

You have once already bought a subscription from us with the same username which was deleted after fraud.

You have bought a new subscription with BTC, to a wrong BTC Address (this wasn't ours)

Back than you were buying a subscription with a Fake CreditCard which is not tolerated and seen as fraud therefore the money was chargedback.

We will not help you furthermore and we do not want you as a customer.

All our ports are available to use, once you connect to the VPN.

Hello everyone,

I got some bad news for everyone that wanted to buy or is already a RoyalVPN user. Well unfortunately enough I have to announce you guys that RoyalVPN will be down for ever. I really liked this project and I had a lot of fun, stressful but also days that improved my experience in the area of a Virtual Private Network. Thank you all for the patience you guys have had when there were some downtime issues, and my truly apologize to the ones that are gonna hate the end of RoyalVPN.

Currently everyone that has a remaining Subscription on RoyalVPN will be refunded. We will not refund the whole subscription but only the remaining time.

Please send your BlueSnap Order REF ID and your VPN username to me by clicking: HERE

Note: Everyone that hasn't provided me the information before 6th of June will be NOT refunded.
