Lady Deathstroke - September 7, 2013, 10:58 am

This thread was created when this section didn't exist and used to live in the suggestions forum but now this forum has been created and it has been moved to here. I want to close this thread as there isn't much need for it any longer but I can't as omni was the one to open it, I have messaged him about this and he should close it for me soon.

Original thread below in spoiler

Spoiler (Click to View) Probably been denied in the past but I just want to see if it could pass.

I've been getting into photography recently and I've been thinking this forum needs a photography section for people to discuss well you know cameras lenses and just photography and maybe as a sub section share some pictures you personally took.

Note I won't be closing this thread if it should be closed a staff member or mentor etc should do it.

RDCA - September 7, 2013, 11:01 am

Suggested and denied, many, many times:

<https://hackforums.net/search.php?action=results&sid=0b7c14386777b68faf0de4be15a4f808&sortby=lastpost&order=desc>

There's not enough activity either way.

Omniscient - September 8, 2013, 2:50 am

I see about 100-150 threads. Unsure if that would add a lot of value to the site giving it a section. How many of you support this that have previous been involved in a thread about photography here on HF?

As a photographer, it's better to go on an actual photography forum since photography isn't that big on HF. Where photography threads get posted is fine, if you open up a photography section I have a feeling people with iPhones using Instagram will post all over the section and essentially ruining it. Plus, not many photography-related threads get posted on a daily basis, the section would barely be active.

I'd support it now as I am a photographer, Although I did not support it then because I obviously was not here.

I support this.

Rather than a section, I think we should add a few prefixes to this section:

Graphics

I was thinking photography, modeling, thread design, and web design.

An entire section is just too much, without really adding any vivid or good discussion, but prefixes create the basic infrastructure needed for tutorials, works, and other things of this nature.

I agree with you, prefixes seem like a better choice than a completely new section.

I'm not a photographer but I absolutely admire peoples photographs. I think that would be a great addition to HackForums and maybe we could all learn from each other.

I have posted in a few threads from time to time, Minnesota Nice has posted a few good ones before.

I will actually finally have my Nikon D3100 up here in two days and will probably be posting pictures since the views here are amazing.

Lady Deathstroke - September 8, 2013, 6:44 am

I support this mainly because next year I plan to get into photography as I'm starting to take a real interest in it. May even do a college course in it next year.

Thanks to Omni for posting on this think this might be the first thread of mine you've posted in so far.

Thanks to whoever reopened this thread aswell.

I tend to post my photography here and there. Mostly in the FBN sub because I don't feel like the RMG section values / criticizes threads posted.

I tried bribing you about this once as well.

Viral Dragon - September 8, 2013, 9:27 am

I don't support a full section for it. Maybe rather just give the forum some new prefixes to use.

I hardly ever see a photography thread being posted. If you made a whole new forum I would start preparing to see shit tons of "OH LOOK MY ANDROID/IPHONE/IPWN/IWHATEVER, TAKES THE BEST PICTURES EVAR". That or instagram out the ass. Or people using a crap digital camera they bought from Best Buy to take pictures of random things like the Sky (which is essentially cheating when you think about it. The sky almost always gives you a good picture).

Sky pictures are rarely ever good. I have never taken one picture of the sky that I liked. Taking good pictures of the sky are hard, and you will need to be in a lot of luck to even be at a location where the sky is good.

That being said, I think a lot of people are not posting their pictures because the RMG section (sad to say) is infested with dishonest or absolutely retarded people. I mean you won't get ANY useful feedback from posting there. Not even on a good day. I think establishing a forum for people who are actually serious about their photography could turn out amazing, as long as people who don't just comment "Wow good shot 10/10" on every single picture. That is what prevents me from posting in the RMG. I don't want those comments. I'd rather get no feedback than just listen to a bunch of people saying shit they know nothing about because they just hit puberty and everything with color is something they would stick a penis into. That's how I feel.

I want RMG changed, I want a photography section because photography is so technical yet so beautiful and it's something you can really go deep into, especially if you have a good base of users who are genuinely interested in the topic. You can work yourself up into getting better and better and learning while having fun.

Maybe, but the amount of activity I don't think is enough to warrant an entire section for it, or even sub section (since that still makes it a section). I mean, shit man, HF is friggin huge with a shit ton of forums and sub forums and sub sub forums. Tbh, I think HF has too many and a lot of these sections don't get much activity (anymore). Adding one more section is also one more section to moderate from LQP/Crap.

I like the idea, could even be open areas for newbies such as myself.

Due to a question of interest and activity there could be something do something like one of the following:

Subsection or Pre-Fix in Graphics section.

A Hobby section with either prefixes or a few subforums in the Hack Forums General Discussion forum.

Hobbies: Photography, Writing/Reading, Cars.

There have always been inquiries about a car section here along with people wanting a more appropriate place for writing.

I just noticed that there is no section to discuss books, but that's probably due to big teenage base. Writing and Reading I think would have decent activity if combined.

Just throwing it out there.

It would be a good way to implement some FAQ sections.

Very nice suggestion Wolves, I do have to implore though. IF a writing/reading section were to be implemented, Iceybunneh should be made mod of that section. I mean, Christ, she's an author, has several books written and even does a few short stories for HF from time to time. You of all people know we can't suggest moderators of sections. ?

But I do agree that Iceh has a very good track record of writings and takes subjects to a serious nature while other seem to joke with it.

I remember when I suggested a writing section she was very adamant about it and I think she'd do great in making sure it is used for it's purpose.

An active and knowledgeable moderator would be needed if such a thing was made or it could come down to Mentors which monitor several sections in the mentioned area.

I did much of the same with the writing section.

Omni seemed to be a bit in between but felt that the community couldn't use it appropriately.

I think a new section of decent interests suggested over the years would be pretty interesting and keep things fresh.

While I understand that Omni wants a certain level of activity before considering a section, I do imagine it would promote users to talk about it knowing there is an appropriate section for it.

On topic though;

I still don't think there's enough threads to warrant an entire section but if you take all the general interest that has come up over the years and throw it all into one sub section I could see that being active, sure. With things in the section includes, writing, reading, photography, cars, etc.

Would satisfy a great many people, AND keep the section number to a minimum.

RDCA - September 8, 2013, 10:18 am

The fact that we are already arguing over a moderator as well as specifically what 'kind' of photos belong reflects how the section will be. Having someone judge what kind or quality of photos (Or writing for that matter) belong in a section is not a good idea at all imho. I still think prefixes are better. It would bring more activity to the section as well hopefully.

Yes, you should make it a trail sub-section if there isn't a lot of activity remove it.

?NoShame - September 12, 2013, 8:17 am

Nice idea, would be better if made a media section and the movies subsection + photography section would go in it.

I do not see getting a lot of activity, but you could try to merge it in somewhere.

?Starfire? - September 13, 2013, 11:38 am

There should just be an 'art' section with Paintings, Photography and Writing all included (This way it would have more activity plus they are all related pretty well)

After hours of scouring sites for information for various preferred equipment, techniques, focusing tips, aperture/shutter settings I've really noticed how complicated photography is.

I think it would be very useful to have some place for good resources (personally made or directory) in a section for photography.

Where else could I share pictures of a random car race I stumbled upon this weekend?

Would love to speak with members on what the best way to take the picture would have been.

Just to contribute, here are my shooting rigs. (The second photo was taken yesterday, the first was taken a while ago).

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

To summarize, I have 2 main cameras. A Nikon D300S and a Nikon D90. Here are some more technical details about them.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)Nikon D300S

Nikon D90

Tamron 70-200 f/1.8

Tamron 24-70mm f/2.8

Tokina 11-16mm f/2.8

Nikkor 35mm and 50mm 1.8G

SB-900 and Yongnuo Yn-460 (Both for my strobe setups)

Sigma 18-200 f/3.5

Nikon 24-70 f/2.8 (Probably the lens I used the most).

Hopefully the idea gets passed because I'd love a photography section.

There's not an appropriate section for it. I personally wouldn't post my work in a place that doesn't warrant it. That's the reason for most inactivity on the subject.

Daddah - September 20, 2013, 9:19 am

I'm not a photographer but i like to watch good pictures, specially the mainstream stuff (Instagram - Tumblr - etc) I don't know why some of you guys doesn't want these kinds of threads, I personally likes to watch pictures of mostly anything from fancy huge buildings to drink cans.

I suggest changing the subfourm "graphics" to "art" and include a photography section, i really don't know it seems that every new section gets deleted or ruined.

.Element - September 20, 2013, 9:49 am

I am in full support of something like this. I'm a big fan of photography, not always necessarily taking the pictures but looking at beautiful pictures as well. Looking to buy a nice DSLR and start trying to take some nice stuff though and a place for that on HF would be amazing.

I'm neutral about this suggestion. Sure it could bring some quality to the forums and have some photographers get their chance in the spotlight.

But, this is HF and of course not everyone can be trusted. What do we do when we start giving a member credit to a picture he didn't even create? What if this is just another one of those sub-sections people abuse to get more posts? I would recommend everybody is entitled to one thread & one thread only, just so the user is forced to create a sort of portfolio, if you will. As long as people are good threads should be able to be ed by OP.

This is just my two cents on this matter.

Well for the stealing work part of that, it would be no better/worse than the Graphics section. They will get called out, stuff will happen, life will go on, like the Graphics section. Also, for the one thread per person, normal members have a strict time limit on editing, which would prove a problem. Good idea, but it like all has its kinks.

I've seen a couple other suggestions that go on for a long time with a ton of support, mainly because of this:

It is a big thing for the site, and Omni thinks these things through a lot, along with being busy. That being said, only Omni can do it because I believe he is the only one with true root access like that. So we must just wait, but I have faith in this suggestion ?

You just posted in it...I feel I should explain a couple of things, I suggested this a few weeks ago and up until recently this thread has been in the suggestions forum only now has it been moved to here and has this forum been created I would love to close this thread but as an admin opened it I can't.

awh well atleast people know it was me that managed to get omni to add this now.
