Thread: Abstract Android wallpaper and lock screen wallpaper, please

Magicmann - September 12, 2013, 8:46 pm

I am the proud owner of a Samsung Galaxy S III, and I'd like something a bit person to show it. I'd appreciate it if someone could make me both:

- * A wallpaper at 1440x1280 with an abstract design consisting of any number of shapes and whatnot. I'd like it to include black, grey, and a deep purple shade. I would like, it to include the following words in a not too obvious way of the artist choosing; geek, pansexual, entrepreneur, pantheist, audiophile, philosopher, programmer, friendly

- * The above request wallpaper LACKING THE WORDS at 720x1280

I really would appreciate anyone willing to help me out here. I've tried making one myself, but I'm artistically challenged. ?

Note: I'm unsure if it's against the rules to say, but I'm working on a personal website and am planning on including the images on it just to show it off, and will credit you as the designer if you'd like. If this note violates the rules of this thread, please inform me so I can remove it.

I don't think mentioning its purpose is against the rules, however once you post the websites link maybe.

As for the wallpaper itself, most websites these days are trying to stray away from these kind of big backgrounds as they take long to load. This is just my criticism.

Good luck on your request.

I want the wallpapers for my cell phone. Not for use as a webpages background. I was stating that I would have a gallery that would include whatever my phone's background is.

I'd still appreciate it if someone could do this for me. My phone would look so much better with some custom art.
