Thread: Signature Request \(Details inside\)

M?tt - September 29, 2013, 2:23 pm

So I'm looking for a signature guys. I would craft my own, but I would really enjoy rocking one made by someone here in the community.

Details:

Sonic render (Preferably Sonic the Werehog) Spoiler \(Click to View\)

[img]http://img.gawkerassets.com/img/18j4x2jhcs0ncjpg/original.jpg[/img]

Dark theme

Sleek

Preferably 600 x 150

I don't recall the signature size limit, but if that's too large, then adjust accordingly. If you want more information on this, I'll provide it. Just ask. If I choose your signature, I will provide a "Made By: ___" in my signature as well.

Fix render image and I'll try to do it..

I fixed the render image, but it's not really a render, but more of an example. Just go to Google and look for "Sonic The Werehog" and you'll find tons.

Well I tried

Sorry if you don't like it kinda new to GFX :p

Read "sleek" afterward sorry I was being stupid.

I probably won't wind up using that, but we all start somewhere. Here's some suggestions:

- Make text "blend" more with the signature and by that, I mean don't place it in the middle of the signature just to fill up space.
- Make your render more of the focus and make it stand out as well. In this piece, the render is way too bright and distorted.
- That red corner in the signature just doesn't go.
- Gradient in text doesn't go.

Here's one of my pieces:

I know this isn't the best, but this is what practice has done for me. My work way back was terrible and probably worse than what you submitted (no offense :P). Keep practicing and submit more work. You'll start picking up GFX in no time.

Just use the one you just posted it looks fine
And thanks for the tips
:3

I know it looks alright. I just wanted something different and really didn't have the time / patience right now to make one. I wanted to see what the community could come up with. I enjoy seeing other people's work, regardless of skill.

That's actually really good. Want to make the text pop a little more? Like literally, a smidgen. :P

Big S?an - September 29, 2013, 4:01 pm

Yeah, sorry about that. This better?

Awesome. Add a thin black border and we're good to go. :)

Big S?an - September 29, 2013, 4:13 pm

Not sure what "thin" is to you so here's 3 :p

You're an awesome individual. Case closed.
