Thread: [How to make a Shield \[LOGO\] \[Intermediate\]](#)

Maulish One - October 6, 2013, 9:27 am

Here's a new video I've recently uploaded on how to create a shield, it's for the intermediate users, I'm expecting you to know how to use your clipping mask, which is simple, and knowing the hot keys throughout the video instead of me having to explain all the hot keys.. It's a base of a shield you can work off with, if you use this tutorial, post your results down below.

No problem, now that I look back on my old designs from a few months back, it's always nice to sit there and laugh at them.

Misuse of the word high quality. ?

This video was misinforming.

Nemuri - January 19, 2014, 6:16 pm

I remember doing this when I first started PS, it's an awesome base to make some sexy looking logos from, good tutorial.

METALSLUG - January 20, 2014, 11:01 am

good tutorial, thanks for uploading subbed :D

Programm3r - January 20, 2014, 3:13 pm

Simple and useful. Thanks for the share

Eeluminati - January 20, 2014, 4:51 pm

Amazing tutorial. This is really excellent.

Maulish One - January 21, 2014, 2:05 pm

Well shit, seeing as you guys liked the tut, and I've stopped youtubing, I might get back into creating tutorials as I've improved over the months as they've came. I'll probably make a video today and keep it posted. It's been months since I've done a tutorial.

If you could do a tutorial on brushes and layer styles to make them look nice, that would be great. ?
