Hey there,

I am looking for anyone or good site I can get strong and good shells for uploading scam pages. ?

All shells are the same with different names lol. Download any shell, open with notepad, gedit or notepad++ then replace the name with your own unique name and change the file name to yourimaginationhere.php (most major hosting companies detect shells from the title names and file names. If they are still being detected you will need to re code the functions section of code)

If you are looking for shells that have already been uploaded then most likely your scam page will not be up for very long since there has been the original uploader+more people who have already ran the server dry.
