To go to the website, click here.

So basically what happenes is the website sends questions to your email that you register with. If you answer that question within the time frame, you get up to $1. Its simple as that. Just go to the link above to register. (Its not a ref link) hmm...

Free $1...couldn't this just be botted until you get $1,000,000 :|

Tough shit you can't use a non-verified fucking PayPal.

Snufflez - October 13, 2013, 5:01 am

Wow, I hope this is legit. Do you have proof of payment?

You get random questions send to your e-mail so in order to bot that the bot would have to read the questions find the right answer for it etc etc if possible and if anybody is willing to spend his time on this than More power to him!

It would be great if they sent out questions more frequently. As of now they only send one out every couple of months.
