Thread: \$4700 in two days! Update: Hit \$20K this month!

?????I?? - October 13, 2013, 4:02 pm

After reading SpK's bragging threads, I was dying to make huge amount of cash on a daily basis with something that is whitehat, and not related to CPA/PPD (Not happy with $150-$200 a day, though on autopilot), and I kept myself awake for for three consecutive nights. Did some serious brainstorming, made a campaign, bought domain and registered an online business, and boom, the niche that I was targeting was indeed a niche that was of high interest.

So, I ended up making $4700 in two days!

Video proof (Because it's HF, and people will flame the shit out of me if I speak without a picture/video proof)

[Video: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Aupc9UxBWXA>]

By the way, it's an offline method, and I had to request my uncle who lives in NY to do as I asked him to, and it paid off! After he received the cash, he had sent them to me through Western Union, and had to do it twice, since they won't allow him to send more than $2999 at a time through their website.

Here's how much I had spent:

Domain: $9.99

Hosting: Already had an account.

Censored: $125

Censored: $59

Censored: $25

WU Transfer Fee: $234.95 (Love my uncle, since he paid them from his own pocket)

Total Profit: $4700- $9.99 - $125 - $59 -$25 = $4481.01

So here's something that I want to say, every ridiculous idea of yours can be a big fat way to make money online, you just need to give it a try! Trust me, I never knew that I could have made this much with this method, I literally had low expectations. Now I am going to spread my niche, and try to scale up things. Will keep you guys updated.

Update:

(Nov 24, 2013 08:21 AM)?????I?? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Currently at $1000-$1300 per day with about 35-45 transactions/orders/leads per day.

Current monthly stats: $26350 transaction, $2107.13 fees deducted by PayPal. Will be moving to 2Checkout from the next month.

This is by far the most butt-hurt comment I've seen in HF. If you have had any experience with sending/receiving money with Western Union, you would have known that you can withdraw the cash in the given currency, which in my case was in US dollars.

So according to you, people can't have different currencies in different countries? You make me laugh pal! If that was the case, then local exchangers would have been extinct by now. Have I not mentioned in my thread that I am implementing this method by the help of my uncle who lives in NY, USA, or are you that butt-hurt that you can't read a thread properly?

Try to do a bit of research before you come to show your hatred/jealousy towards someone. ?

Falconw0w - October 14, 2013, 7:40 am

Also why the hell would WU give you USD when you live in a country where the national currency is something else? I dont want to open up other chapters from your fraud lists Imtiaz, you've done it enough now.

You are the most uneducated person I've ever encountered in HF, based on what you just wrote.

Never heard about people saving a currency which is 80.20 times greater than their 'national' currency? It's called making a huge profit from exchange, which you will never understand, since you're confined within a certain pool of knowledge.

Go search in Google, 1 USD is equivalent to 78-81 taka, so that is why people like me who earn about $10,000 or more from either online or from US companies, tend to keep the money saved up in dollars. Try to learn a thing or two, will help in the long run.

Buying FR downloads you say? Contact RadarX or Opc and then tell them to verify my account manually, and then shove your fist up your mouth, through which all the shit comes out.

Personally, I know that when people actually start making money doing something, they dont call it a 'method' or refer to it as 'implementing a method.' A method is a fable drawn in to lure people to feel inquisitve, PM the OP, and then pay $ for that 'method.' In all seriousness there are people here making ALOT more than you on the silkroad/carding, and that's not a 'method.' I've been in the game for a long time son, and there's alot of people that are silent that know what you're really doing.

Even my teacher says no kid in her class (including me) doesn't make over 2.4k a month because were 17, which i LOL at.

It's possible to make this much online, and even more, the meaning to making money is far different in everyone else's eyes so don't come to quick to judge to say virtual didn't earn this himself, i highly believe he did.

I have already hired two people (Virtual Assistants) to work under me, since that will help me target more of my customers and therefore increase revenue.

Once I reach $100k with this method, then I will register an offline company that is dedicated to the type of work that I am doing, and hence will increase my network from just New York to other major states of USA.

And no, I don't have to rank the websites, since that isn't a part of what I am doing. It's different.

It is obvious that no one would sell a method which is making them well over $1000 a day. I just posted this thread to make you'll understand that it's more than just possible to make crazy sum of money online with the most common idea.

People need to understand NOBODY on HF is going to actually sell you methods that will earn in actuality; Majority of guides on here claiming to earn thousands are just profit for the seller.. The only reason people that actually earn are on here is to brag, get refs, or out-source work or tools... lolol

Never calculate these earnings in a monthly basis, because some days will be good and some days will be bad, so there will be fluctuations. This is Internet Marketing, not a job at an office where your earnings remain the same over the month.

You made me laugh dude. Even if I ever plan on selling my technique and resources, I am more than sure that you won't be able to afford it since it will be a 12x multiplication of my monthly earnings as Await has previously stated.

I've had so many PMs for this. Guys you need to understand, when you are making $200,000+ month, there is no sane person that would make a eBook about the exact methods. I could make a eBook and lie my ass off, but that's just stupid.
