Normally, I don't care for defacing, and most of the time these threads are pointless. However;

I can't explain it, hope you understood >_>

With all due respect, do you actually think there's any point in your actions? What benefit do you produce from violating random ass sites nobody gives two shits about? Get your own websites and upload your art over there. End of the day you're doing this just because you can, how can you expect serious members to treat you?

I can't explain it, hope you understood > >go to bed zix ur drunk
