I will have a contract available for those who have an HF mindset.

This is a serious marketing job, it will be repetitive yet really easy, but time consuming.

Please only msg me if you are 100% serious, want to make money, a full time marketing position will be available for serious employees.

Pm me with more info about what this consists of

FirstServ - October 19, 2013, 5:47 pm

job consists of emailing companies on a list that I have.

There are 1351 companies. You will be paid, only upon completion. You have 14 days as of today.

I will pay once you send me back the document I give you that you need to fill out.

The most I will pay is $100. Maybe more depends on speed and quality.

I replied to everyone interested, 7 people ditched out after I showed them the project.

There are many projects available, this is an introductory one for our marketing department, we have projects that pay up to $1000. This is just the first step. If you aren't ready to work hard, and earn your pay, this is not for you.
