Thread: [\[DDoS Attacked:\]>_www.nsa.gov_\[/National Security Agency\]](#)

mObile - October 25, 2013, 4:47 pm

Just watched the national news today and they said that www.nsa.gov was hacked today ..Imao!

>> www.nsa.gov

The site is currently down but I doubt they were /HACKED sounds more like a DDos attack from a anonymous group to me. Idc I think this is the best "LOL" news I've heard all day.

What do you think?

Isthmi - October 25, 2013, 4:50 pm

Yeah, just a tad late. Someone already posted this. But i believe that the nsa is probably just faking this so when a person goes onto the website, when it doesnt load, it takes your ip, and lurks you, Like a rat, but nsa style.

Sundae - October 25, 2013, 4:52 pm

Lol the second I opened the NSA.gov link I got a phone call from a (887) number. Scared the shit out of me.

TexasBadBoy - October 25, 2013, 4:56 pm

HAHAHA Thanks for the share. I hadn't seen it.

NekoYourGod - October 25, 2013, 4:58 pm

Rolf mao o_o I guess DDos too... ?

-3?? - October 26, 2013, 1:16 am

It's called DDoS not DDos.

You really think it was hacked? ???

Dr41DeY - October 26, 2013, 1:28 am

Thanks for sharing this man! :)

Keep it up :pp

"[HACKED:]>_www.nsa.gov_[/National Security Agency]"

Reads thread...turns out it was a DDoS attack

Eh... -.-..

Defirence - October 26, 2013, 5:23 am

It was a DDoS attack, and you won't get ratted, use cmd to ping it it says host is down, apparently it was Anonymous who did it.

It's still down:

C:\Users\Defirence>ping nsa.gov

Pinging nsa.gov [65.196.127.226] with 32 bytes of data:

Request timed out.

Request timed out.

Ping statistics for 65.196.127.226:

Packets: Sent = 4, Received = 0, Lost = 4 (100% loss),

No, it is called ddOs.

R4nger - October 26, 2013, 6:58 am change this to "NSA Got DDoS'ed"

have a great day!

Ichi - October 26, 2013, 7:00 am

DDos? What? Nah bruh, unless someone is lying

Quote:WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Security Agency says its website nsa.gov was inaccessible for several hours during a scheduled update.

The agency says an internal error in the system caused the problem.

There had been speculation on the Internet that the online site had been hit with a denial-of-service attack, but the agency said that was not true.

Also, people didn't start taking credit for this "hack"/"attack"(w/e you wanna call it) until an hour after the site had already been offline.

jackal5462 - October 26, 2013, 7:05 am fuck them if i could i would destroy they servers and computers and prism and everything else!!!!

BananenMan - October 26, 2013, 1:30 pm

you dont need to tick nsa.gov but www.nsa.gov :$

working for me atleast.

hatrick - October 26, 2013, 1:31 pm

WOah !!

This thread worth to be transferred to World news :p

They must be banging their heads right now :) .

phlower - October 27, 2013, 7:55 pm

read the title and I thought you hacked that site

Grimzyy - October 27, 2013, 8:04 pm

This wasn't today, I've known this for..3 days now? they've been down for going on 5 days I think.

Omg, I've missed you.

hello again...

vindianv - October 30, 2013, 2:41 pm

how hard would they have to hit to take down a government website. What do you guys think?

Zexyisboss15 - October 30, 2013, 4:43 pm

XD they got whats coming to them whoever did it....
idk tho they might tract them down and murder them

Grimzyy - October 30, 2013, 4:47 pm

They're now back up...lawlz just letting you guys know.
