Thread: Hiring Admins - Mods - Active Posters - Active Promoters - First Premium Members -

Malevolent - October 27, 2013, 1:09 pm

Hello everyone at HackForums!

I am Sirsloth, also known as Malevolent on some other forums.

I would like to bring to the attention of some of the users here, that I am looking for staff and a pre-launch group for a new forum.

Yes, I know, there are just too many of the same forum!
That's why we are going to try and change some of that.

The concept of the site, is of course, to have an active community, just as an forum. However, I want this forum to be much more than a single focus, or a hybrid.

Yes, it will still contain regular general topic boards for everyone to discuss in (we will call these the system boards for short.)

But -- we will allow anyone with the right amount of posts/rep, or whatever is decided on, to create their own board/sub-board.

Oh wait, other forums already do that? What's the point?

Well, generally, other boards require a group ownership, or sponsorship. We are just rewarding our active users!

Currently looking for:

1x - trustworthy admin who can prove they have experience, and are knowledgeable in Mybb/CSS/Php/user relations/community protocol. Must also be good with advertising, posting, and have excellent grammar & spelling.

2x - active moderators, must be able to prove they have experience, or are willing to work at it, must be good with advertising and posting. Would prefer great quality grammar & spelling.

2x - active SECTIONAL moderators, must be able to prove they have experience, or are willing to work at it, must be good with advertising and posting. Would prefer great quality grammar & spelling.

10x - original premium members, members who plan to be semi-active/active, and will be given a free rank upgrade to premium, along with the award

10x - active posters to help us build content before launch, will be given an award

5x - promoters, must be able to bring in active users/posting users, will be given an award

*Positions are in exchange for forum features, upgrades, and virtual rewards.

Thank you for your time in viewing this, please post, or private message me if you're interested!

gigabit - October 28, 2013, 2:18 pm

I could be a moderator, I always follow rules and I think my grammar is good, think about it! ?

Unknown Cheater - October 28, 2013, 2:30 pm

I could be an moderator, I have my own website, but I use VB mainly since I make my own themes for it.. I have plenty of time and I am not a kid so no worries on immaturity as when I look for staff on my own site I make sure to have only those that are mature and won't misuse their power.

Malevolent - October 28, 2013, 3:04 pm

I am slowly starting to reply to everyone, thank you all for the interest!

Always Sad - October 28, 2013, 4:25 pm

Whats the award?

I can be active if i need to be, let me know.

justinis - October 28, 2013, 4:53 pm

I'm highly interested in this.

I'm going to be completely honest unlike maybe some people on here...

The best I'd be good at is "original premium members", but I can be given a higher rank if asked. I am not familiar, sadly, with "Mybb/CSS/Php/user relations/community protocol" nor am I a good advertise.

My grammar is always correct unlike others which adds a pro to my request. I can post very high quality posts/threads without being asked to too.

I can be incredibly active in the forum but, if it doesn't have a Marketplace, that'd affect my activeness a slight bit, but not fully.

I live to do stuff with money... Trying to earn money though, since I can't lose any. :P

Anyways, please private message me with more information regarding this as well as the site.

Thank you for your time and possibly your consideration of accepting me as your next staff.

?chg - October 28, 2013, 4:56 pm

I'm interested in the Premium Member rank, also if you have a Currency Exchange section, it's all good.

Thank you.

Uskalijas - October 28, 2013, 5:00 pm
