Thread: Mobile Device Issues?

Raptor. - October 30, 2013, 4:52 pm

Is anybody else, on a mobile device, having issues such as when flicking over to the VIP Area or Marketplace tabs, the sub-forums don't appear? You have to click the name of the forum (e.g. HF l33t/ub3r Forums) and navigate to that page in order to see the sub-forums? It's hard as hell for me to describe, but is anybody else experiencing this?

EDIT: My bad, was supposed to go into Ub3r support, can somebody move this if required thanks?

Can you take a screenshot of what you're seeing?

Not sure how I can tbh, my only iDevice is my iPod so it's a pain to get that pic online, and my phone is an Android Xperia U, no idea how to screen-cap on it, nor of how to share that pic with HF easily.

I use hf on my iPad and it's great. Never tried it on my phone though.

I should note, when I use it from a mobile device, I use it from my Android Phone using ICS.

Click the little + on the right side of the title bar and it should expand the forum.

A user was having this problem yesterday.

If not, please PM me and I will reopen.
