Ok so I see you got someone to delete all my posts how nice. Anyways your still telling people the same information on the note thinking it will still work if you don't Update. It will not work except for a Call feature that is all.

BagOBuns - November 4, 2013, 7:22 am

Does pretty much everything he says it will do, but I cannot get the Mood and Name things to work, and the 24 hour clock for the Fake Quote Gen is broken.

EDIT: Asked friends about my mood and name, neither show up on their end. It just shows whatever you put in Animate, nothing else.

LMKY - November 4, 2013, 10:32 am

Have you seen that my posts were deleted too?

And it is still unsure. From what you said, and what I understood, you said that it will not work with the new update. A I right? Well, if it does not work with the new update, then just don't update...

You are correct it won't work with the new update but you are wrong it will not work for any others. It is going to be completely done with with or without a update.

You do realize that that makes no sense. If it works now with this version, then it should still work with the same version after december. The api is not something hosted by them that will go down when they stop it, it will just be discontinued. That means that you will still have the API as long as you don't update.

Kululu - November 4, 2013, 4:03 pm with the blackhat features by stealing their information you mean I can get the password and username and all needed to log to their skype .. or what exactly ?

It gets all of the information on their skype profile. Its not really blackhat, but its just to give it a name.

Answering your question, no it does not get their password.

Well I talked to Support on Skype and waited 30 minutes last time we had our conversation and they told it won't work at ALL the only thing that will is a NEW Call feature THAT IS IT.

It will still work with the current one.

After extensive usage of this product, I really must vouch for it. Everything stated in the thread is there, and it all works just fine (when used correctly :P). I would definitely recommend this to any Skype user with a sense of humor, or one who sells digital goods. Fantastic product.

(Nov 9, 2013 10:09 AM)Yuuki Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Can I ask how this is an different from <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2629971> ?Well, first of all, there's the ui. You get a lost of people online /offline with ways to organize it second, we are implementing a booter that you can use with your own shells. Third, and most useful, a reply bot. You put a message that it scans for, and it replies whenever it sees that message.

There's much more to list, but I'm not going to cause I'm on an iPad

I would like to thank Rebellion so much! I bought this program back a few months ago when it wasn't under his account. Now that I changed computers my HWID was ultimately changed. Having no previous interaction with Rebellion, Metab had to vouch for me, that I indeed did purchase the program. Rebellion had no problem whatsoever in giving me access once again to SimpleSkype!
