Updated:

- Now able to grab all songs of an album from an iTunes link
- Fixed a lot of others issues

Preview here ; Becareful, quite big GIF.

Hi guys. I've been working on a new project lately. I don't know if you know that platform called GrooveShark.

It's basically a paid platform like Deezer or Spotify, that allows you to Stream musics on the internet.

It's a h-u-u-u-ge music library with tracks of quality. Most of them should be 256 kbps at least.

Well, as showed on the video, GrooveStream allows you to Stream & Download all the musics from their platform, and create some playlists. Everything is done through HTTPWebRequest.

I don't really have much to say, everything's pretty much explicit.

Finally, I'd like to give a big thanks to Mavamaarten, who helped me for the design.

And of course, thanks to Idb. for his awesomeness!33t HTTP Class, that makes our job so fucking easier.

This looks really nice. Can't wait to give it a try. Can you add a virus scan though please? Thanks!

Weakky. - November 2, 2013, 10:19 am

I have shared far enough things here not to add a virus scan. If you don't trust it, scan it yourself.

Thanks for the feedback though man.

? I guess so. I did try it out, and I have to say this is a amazing release. Great quality on songs. Great selection. Has artists even Spotify doesn't carry. Overall very solid release. Thanks again.

And It doesnt need an account? Hell yeah.
Well done Trans, nice release

SubGenius - November 2, 2013, 11:25 am

Oh man, dat interface.
Its perfect, thank you.

Cairns - November 2, 2013, 11:30 am

Interface looks nice, can't say anything about the code though since I haven't seen it. Well done on the interface, although I won't find it useful I'm sure a lot of others will!

gigajew - November 2, 2013, 11:39 am

I absolutely love the concept and the theme. Also, it's platform, not "plateform".

Excalvius - November 2, 2013, 11:51 am

This looks outstanding. The UI looks sleek and obsolete. I'll give this a shot when I get home.

I don't know. Something about it just strikes me as out of date; maybe it's just me.

But, with that being said, I do have to say it's still a nice UI. No complaints.

Anyone in the section who wants to download this should be smart enough to know what's a virus and what isn't.

Scribez - November 2, 2013, 3:37 pm

Nice Release! I have a few things that I and perhaps other people might like, Right click to add the songs to playlist, the ability to sign in via a web browser like openid for the paranoid people that then changes the interface. Another one is to be able to move the window easily since I have to find a 'place' to move it since the buttons/images are in the way

I also would like tabs for the playlists etc like account management, playlists, recents etc which would be nice. I know the program is more over to download but I think this would be an excellent media player, especially if you can use this with your main grooveshark account. Thanks anyways and sorry, quite a perfectionist when it comes to some things I suppose :)

Oh, and change the website your hosting it off since the website appear malicious to some :)

Hi man. I'm not really getting what you mean by "the ability to sign in via a web browser like openid for the paranoid people that then changes the interface" ..

Regarding the account management, I will not add any of this. I want to keep the app without the need of an account. Even though the user could choose if he wants to log in or not, I don't see why you would need to manage your account through the app. Their website exists for that and is more appropriate IMO. About the online playlist that you can store on your account, I'd have to manage both local and online, and that'd complicate everything for a small benefit as most of the user don't even have an account. Sorry :P.

However, I must agree that the window isn't easily movable. That's because I'm drawing the logo, and the mouse event isn't firing over it. I'll work on that man. Same for the website hosting, i'ma change it now.

Thanks for all your suggestions, I highly appreciate them.

Regarding the app, I noticed that some Session ID's were expiring after a certain time. I updated the code, regenerating these ID's. Still not sure how long I have to wait to regenerate them though. That being said, if the app doesn't stream your musics anymore, just restart the app for the moment.

Yes, I did notice the app 'crashes' where it wouldn't download or play so I restarted the app and it's fine. I just wanted a nice Grooveshark player that's a separate app (like a media player) than a web browser tab. The whole login thing was so that you could use and download all your playlists if you have an account. Grooveshark is also free to play music so it's not like it's anything more special than logging in except the playlist stuff but dw. I could always try making my own except it would be quite rubbish hahah :)

Hmm.. J'ai essayé récemment l'appli chez un ami pour beta test, et ça m'a fait la même chose. Lorsqu'il est écrit connecting, l'application est en fait en train de récupérer les tokens et sessions ID pour pouvoir ensuite faire les requêtes pour récupérer et télécharger les musiques. Si tu restes sur connecting, ça veut dire qu'il y a un problème avec ces requêtes, et donc la textbox et les deux boutons ne s'active pas. Es tu sur d'avoir le Framework 4.0 ?

Weakky. - November 5, 2013, 10:10 am

Alright guys, thanks for all your feedbacks & suggestions, i'm gonna work on them.

For the moment, it seems that Grooveshark tried to fuck it up, changing the postdata of one of the request so I was not able to retrieve all the data necessary to get the URL's song.

I already managed to get another way to grab these data. Application has been updated.

I'm glad you like it man, but there's nothing that amazing in the theme IMO, I just copied grooveshark ! :P.

Still, could someone tell me if the songs takes a huge delay to buffer, or if it is okay, cause it's pretty long for me here, and my bandwidth seems pretty good.

EDIT: Updated. Repeat/Shuffle function added. The buttons looks pretty ugly for the moment tbh. I'll find to try some others later.

The downloader already handles multiple donwloads at once. There's just a little issue for the moment though, you need to wait the first download to be completed in order to get all the other starting simultaneously.

Sorry I should have phrased my request better.

What I meant to say was that when using the shift key to select multiple song right clicking download should add the entire list to the download manager. Hopefully the .gif below should explain what I mean.

There is an error if the title contains a (") You might want to fix that..

EDIT : Now I can't do anything with it, not even playing any song. Just browsing.

But thanks for it, it will be very useful for me.

Are you going to make it open source ? I would be really interested in seeing how you coded it :)

EDIT2 : My bad, it is because I've made too much requests on the streamer's servers by downloading 2-3 albums.

Thanks.

Hey folks, I know it's been a log while since I did not update this thread, but well, I thought it'd be nice to share the latest news of it, mostly because I haven't seen any music applications around hf lately. Regardless of the large amount of bugfixes I made, there are some pretty cool new UI features.

The first one is that new textbox search bar I made. As stated on the thread, the application is able to grab a whole album from an iTunes link, and search all available songs on Groovestream, not to have to bother searching all songs by yourselves. The search bar basically allow you to switch from a regular search on grooveshark to an itunes search.

[img]<http://screenshotr.us/images/69818974.png>[/img]

The second major update, is the use of the BASS dll, getting rid of the WMP component. This made me able to add a nice spectrum analyzer.

'Gotta thanks mavamaarten for his awesome idea, he was the first to do it on Vk search. I shamefully copied his idea, but the level of swag resulting from this feature is near from infinity. I also provided a way to customize the rendering of the spectrum analyzer.
I hope you guys enjoy the app.

I'm not real big on gravedigging but I fucking loved this program and after upgrading to Windows 8.1 it doesn't seem to work.

My error for my netframe work is this:

Code See the end of this message for details on invoking just-in-time (JIT) debugging instead of this dialog box.

 JIT Debugging *****

To enable just-in-time (JIT) debugging, the .config file for this application or computer (machine.config) must have the jitDebugging value set in the system.windows.forms section. The application must also be compiled with debugging enabled.

For example:

<configuration>

<system.windows.forms jitDebugging="true" />

</configuration>

When JIT debugging is enabled, any unhandled exception will be sent to the JIT debugger registered on the computer rather than be handled by this dialog box.

Just take the library bass.dll out of the zipped file and place it in the root directory of GrooveStream.

He shouldn't take the official one as (thanks to mavamaarten) mine is cracked, and avoid the need of a serial key. Nevertheless, the error doesn't come from a failure during the download. BadImageFormat exceptions are almost always due to platform compatibility issues :/. Are you in 32 or 64bits ? I think I experienced that recently on a W8.1 x86.

I figured it was due to it not downloading correctly,

I was getting the same error due to my library literally containing no data in it after it downloading.

The program seems to work fine for me so far with the official library though :P

Also, I'm 64bit.

 JIT Debugging *****

To enable just-in-time (JIT) debugging, the .config file for this application or computer (machine.config) must have the jitDebugging value set in the system.windows.forms section. The application must also be compiled with debugging enabled.

For example:

<configuration>
  <system.windows.forms jitDebugging="true" />
</configuration>

When JIT debugging is enabled, any unhandled exception will be sent to the JIT debugger registered on the computer rather than be handled by this dialog box.

I thank you for gravedigging this thread since I found this thread. Such a good tool.

The program seems to work fine for me so far with the official library though :P

Also, I'm 64bit.

Oh, weird! Maybe he should try with it then, I wasn't aware of that! Thanks for letting me know, and thanks as well to all the others nice feedback, glad to see it back on the top of hf, that app suprisingly never got much attention whereas I personally use it every damn day since I made it!

This is nice UI and fucking great app, props on that. The downloading speed seems a bit slow and the ending doesn't make sense, Play. Download. Create? Create what?

Nice job though.

I have 64bit Windows 8.1 Pro. With that other bass file I got my player to work. I think your cracked bass just has compatibility issues with Windows 8.1.

Other than that, I love this player which is why I posted a reply. I rather put the error on here just incase someone else has the same problem they can get an answer as well.

I'll just replace the bass dll with the original one I guess. Thanks for reporting.

Yes it does. "Create" refers to the playlist system. "Create your own playlists".

The downloading speed really depends on the moment of the day, sometimes I almost reach ~1MB/S, and sometimes it nearly reaches ~100KB/S. Thanks man.

That would be kinda hard to compare the music you're streaming to all your downloaded files. Being able to play downloaded files is a good idea though. Thanks.
