Thread: [\[FIX\] Fix NSFW Mode Please!](#)

r00tyu0rm0msb0x - November 8, 2013, 5:13 pm

NSFW Mode is currently not working. Even though there is no picture logo, the "Welcome to Hackforums.net" still appears.

Hope you accept my suggestion and fix this ASAP as some members need this.

Thanks.

Wow, nice first post dude!!! Keep it up... really please do.

It isn't that hard to scroll down, it takes two seconds of your time. The Welcome to HackForums.net text banner is nothing compared to a giant picture that you can clearly see says Hack Forums on it from several feet away, with the text one it is hardly noticeable and isn't much of a big deal.

It's still an issue that should be fixed, no need for excuses.

Omni said he wasn't going to do it. The point of nsfw.hf is to remove the big flashy images, not to remove any text that says "Hack Forums"

Exactly, it really isn't that noticeable unless someone is right over your shoulder anyways. It also doesn't take much effort to scroll down a little either.

A: Scroll Down.

B: Just make user script to hide that if it really irritates you.

Correct

Please scroll down ever so slightly so you don't see it.

Is it really that hard?

Ya know it also says HackForums on the breadcrumb too.
