Thread: Freddy Krueger's Feedback Thread | 3 years | 6k posts | 400 rep

Freddy Kru?ger - November 12, 2013, 3:29 pm

I promised myself I'd write a feedback thread when I reached these milestones so here it is, note that there will be no fancy graphics here because I can't use PS for shit and I don't see any point in it here.

How I found HF

It all began one faithful day when I felt the urge to look like a "1337 h4x0r" so I did what any 15 year old worth his salt would have done at the time, I Googled it.

I found HF on the first page and the sentence "Hack Forums is your entry into the dark world of hacking." quickly made my genitalia throb with excitement, I signed up and so began my journey into the wonderful world of HF.

I posted a thread in the beginner hacking section as soon as I signed up in hopes of further increasing my 1337 skills, I got my answer swiftly, feelsgoodman.

I wasn't really active back in the day, all I did was lurk and when I did post it was in a horrendous manor.

Group feedback

Feedback on groups I've been/currently am in:

The Empire: This group is filled with a bunch of noobs but is by far my favorite, I haven't been here for very long but I've been loving the group and almost everyone in it ever since. I'm hoping to have many more good times with these bastards even if you noobs bully me from time to time. (I'm looking at you Tibit)

Skill: I've been in here for quite some time now and I've grown to treat this group like family, I love you guys for tolerating my shit.

Void: I haven't been disappointed, when I first joined this group I admit to thinking everyone had a pipe up their ass but my opinion on the group has quickly changed, Hex and Bandors, you're doing one hell of a job.

Innovation: I applied to the gaming section of the group as I liked the way Astonish ran things in Respawn, there hasn't much activity in the gaming sector yet but I can't wait for things to kick off.

Complexity: I've only been here a few days so I can't say much about you guys.

Graphic masters: I was in here two years ago, it was nice but I wasn't really into graphics at the time so I only posted 3 times then got kicked for inactivity, I don't even know how I got in, must have been hitting the Devil's lettuce.

Legion: I really don't care what everyone says about this group, I've had some of the best times in here, I have massive amounts of respect for Anonymous but I had to leave because to be honest there wasn't much teaching going on nor was there much learning.

Black Knights: I remember being in this group and that it was amazing, this was 3 years ago so It's all very blurry

The Rat's Crew: ^

Feedback on groups I've not been in:

The Alliance: This is by far the most respected group here and for good reason, It's sad to see you go, goodnight sweet prince <3

Fly By Night: Graphics masters expanded, I'm loving the direction but I don't really have much else to say as I rarely visit the GFX section.

Red Lions: It's a shame that you guys are inactive and a shadow of what you once were, Glassy if you read this, please do something.

Instinct: I've disliked the group ever since the Skill drama but I feel that it's for nothing and in the past now, you guys are pretty chill.

Infamous: I would give my left nut and sell my body to the group to find out what the hell goes on in there.

Illuminati: $$

Dynasty: Divine has mad skills, this group is in good hands

143: PLEASE DON'T GO, PLEAAAAASE DON'T GO, I just wish I was a part of this group when they were doing all this amazing giveaways and just making the Innuendo section a better place.

Community feedback

Despite the scammers, 1337 wanna-be's and kids, HF is just amazing, I'm planning on being here for a long long time.

Forum section feedback

I'll only be talking about the sections I post in.

The Lounge: There's always something going on in here

League of Legends: I quit playing league recently but with 2 years of experience under my belt, I enjoy discussing the game as well as helping out other members when they need it.

Computer and Online Gaming: I've been gaming on the PC ever since I was a child, I always will be (get the hell out of here with that console shit nigga) and I just love this section.

Innuendo: A few years ago this section was the best, it had some amazing stories, even the trolling was amazing, I still visit it to help people out but not as much as I used to, Icebunny and Psychotic overlord just keep going what you're doing.

Melody, Harmony, Rhythm, and MP3: I love music

Staff feedback

I haven't had many personal run-ins with staff but you're all doing an amazing job.

Shoutouts

Omniscient

You're basically the owner of the forum that has been a huge part of my life for years and for that I thank you.

I have the utmost respect for this member, we may not talk much after I left legion but you're still one of the best members on here in my opinion.

Bandors

We don't talk as much as I'd like to but any one who's been through half of the shit you've been through would have been broken by now and you keep Void the way it's meant to be, stay strong man.

Black Shadow

We strongly disagree with each other when it comes to religion but I always enjoy our conversations, You're one of the nicest members around and It's sad to see you go Peter.

Icehbunny

I hope Viral Dragon knows how lucky he has it, you and the work you do in the Innuendo section are amazing, I'm surprised you haven't been moderator yet, the most down to earth member around.

Vinnie

We've had a bit of a disliking for each other but I admit to being a bit childish, you're a pretty cool guy who I'd love to get to know more, this is my attempt at burying the hatchet.

MAYBE IF YOU GOT ON SKYPE AND TALKED TO ME MORE I WOULDN'T HAVE FORGOTTEN TO ADD YOU IN HERE.

Mael

My pegging buddy.

Innocent

My apprentice lulz

Conclusion

This thread is ugly as hell but whatever, I hope you all enjoyed the read and I hope to enjoy HF for many years to come despite its flaws, thanks for reading.
