You should include whether or not you will deal through a middleman in the OP.

More often than not, people will judge your credibility by your account status, so a middleman would be beneficial for getting you more exchangers.

I'd rather not as that's kinda a pain to do :/ but I will if I have to at the cost of the seller, using a known MM. Alternatively if it would make someone feel better we can split the transaction into 2 or 3 smaller parts if they wish
