How about you tell me the paypal email that was sent to? Seeing i can prove to anyone all my deals are done under my actual name on a verified paypal.

Any of my api / booter buyers can show you proof of that seeing they have to send me $ for it and it wont show that name. Unless i magically got many bank accounts under my name and addresses and such then your statement is false.

That's because you're an idiot and have no knowledge of anything that has happened shortly before HF was swarmed with shitty booters and idiots promising other idiots you can get rich with a 50 dollar book.

Booter down was by far one of the most talked about thing among booter owners for quite awhile. People where scared they would have their booter hacked and sql dumped on orgys site.

Clearly you don't understand Orgy is by far one of the most known members here on HF and has been producing quality work before you and i where around.

You look retarded bickering back and forth with him all because he shed some light on your scam reports and hurt your feelings with the comment about how you act as if you rule this marketplace.

My question is for you is if you where scammed why did you never charge me back. That is my question for you because if i was scammed 300 dollars you bet your sweet ass id be riding paypal ass until i got my money back.
