You can use your own computer to host a server, but it needs to be on 24/7.
Your other option is finding a free vps here and run it from there.

Doubt you're going to find a server for this for free as it is rather resource intensive. I'd suggest using a PC.

You won't ever find a free source of hosting for this, you'll need a decent spec VPS to start with - I'd take a look at OVH if you're on a low budget.
