Thread: [\[WIP\] Coming Soon Page](#)

• ????c???? • - November 27, 2013, 9:21 pm

Hey guys, just wondered what you think of my coming soon page?

What should i add?

What should i take away?

Note: The graphics aren't the best, but just go with it as i do not make graphics.

Why would you need a coming soon page? Instead of spending your time making a coming soon page, spend your time finishing the website.

It matters not why one would need a coming soon page, does it? What matters, is i asked for a review of it, not a bullshit post that has no relevance here.

It looks a tad dark, maybe lighten it up a little OP.

Remove that blue-purple effect at the top to

Thanks for your feedback.

Would you suggest a lighter color of the gradient used, or scrap the gradient altogether?

1) Why did you get a .org.uk that's a terrible TLD

2) The font that Zer0x is written in is terrible

3) It's REALLY dark as 'Devil!!' said, lighten it up a tad by making the background lighter

Other than that, it looks pretty nice.

My point is completely fair. You're spending time make a "Coming Soon" page for your website and you're asking what people think about the design.

You also can't deny that you didn't make it. You clearly downloaded the script somewhere. Takes less than a second to see that. So don't get butthurt over a fair question.

1. Bought is for 0.50 to run test pages on.
2. I said, i don't do graphics so no need to comment on them
3. Thanks

1) Parenthesis are cooler
2) You should start graphics they're pretty cool
3) Why did you left align your text? It's defaultly aligned to the left

Actually I found his response quite intelligent and logical. You should follow his advice.

It's no bueno, OP.

Best answer yet!

Yeah, OP there's not much 'judging' to be done on your end considering it's not even yours.
Also, I suggest you take it off of SPAM, hopefully you were already thinking about it whenever you get your site up and running.
