Thread: Account Merged?

GrizzlyH4X - December 10, 2013, 6:43 pm

Hello can anyone help me ok soo my friend bought l33t for me and I have been waiting and it turns out that the l33t was put on his account which he never uses. So I ask Omniscient if he will switch the l33t which my friend bought for me to my account well he does sorta. he merges my account with my friends account cause he thinks I have two accounts which I didn't. Then I lost all my rep and I asked him and he said when you merge accounts you loose ur rep. I asked can I have the rep back? then he -3 rep me cause I asked for rep I know he the owner and im in a stuck position but I don't see what I did wrong? pics: <https://gyazo.com/c8dbba9494d43f2f095533ffa5084b0a>

Did you ever login to your account at his house? or vise versa

Just to clarify...

Omniscient isn't "an" admin, he's "THE" admin. Your situation seems pretty silly.

Plus your thread should be and likely will be junked.

No. He's AN admin:

He's also the creator, owner, and God of this site, but there are 2 other people with admin rights.

which is everyone.

Did your friend PM Omni like he asked for?

That's like saying Walter white is the main guy of breaking bad. Yeah he is. The shows about him. But there are plenty of other main guys without which the TV show (forum) couldn't function.

Omni's obviously pertinent to the success of this forum, but without staff he just couldn't handle it. No man could. There's more than one admin.

PM no one else but Omniscient to resolve this. I find it absurd you thought making a thread would help.

Omniscient - December 10, 2013, 7:51 pm

By logging into both accounts you flagged them as the same account and they were merged. Time for you to read the Help Docs on sites policies too.
