Can you explain how it works?

Like what u have to fill in by " password/accounts "...

How to fill in wich account u want to crack (wich name/profile.)

Can you even hack " Famous " Facebook accounts with this? With around 20K followers+

Thanks,

Playb0y - December 12, 2013, 6:27 am

Vouch. This shit got me into 3 different accounts easily.

Thanks, You click load, and then select the file, same with passwords, emails, and proxies. I explained it in a read me file, if you still don't understand I can help you.

Yes, you can hack 'famous' facebook accounts with this, although it is a bit harder, but that is to be assumed.

Not that many people have a word as a password... the list on there has the most commonly used passwords with a link to a bulk list of more.

emerzz - December 30, 2013, 4:00 pm

I've sent 2 e-mails with no response so far and asked you to add me on skype with no response.

So I guess I'll just post my question here:

I did a test run with an account that is mine with the password in password list and it isn't cracking that account. So that would lead me to believe it isn't working or there is some other problem.

Any advice?

Gary - December 31, 2013, 12:24 am

Good Luck with Sales Bandors! You're making a lot of money off of this!

Read This:

The program works but there is something I want to say:

Actually you can do anything with it.

When you get the password of you victim and you try to log in to facebook,

Facebook gives a message : This is the first time you log in with an another device.

They will send a security code to the phone number of that account..

so you can do nothing lol

About an hour after I install this I cracked my own account to Test, strait after my Facebook was being accessed from somebody in Argentina,

So they got my email address from this program otherwise this wouldn't make sense.

I don't appreciate that this program gives away information to others. Especially when it's mine.

Spiff_Foxwill - January 27, 2014, 1:39 am

So when it ends up cracking the password, will it tell you what the password is straight up so that you can keep logging into their facebook (hopefully) without them noticing?

I think this program is fake , it doenst work , there is no tutorial or a proof that people cracked some one

At least make a tutorial or a video , but they cant because its fake tazbati - January 27, 2014, 8:50 am

I tried the program. If you want to hack someone, you need to have loads of proxies and good pass list. Unfortunately the program doesnt accept the world list over 32k which makes it compeltely useless.

Are you high? Maybe a 32k word list which would be 100,000,000 long, which would be crazy. If you want to use a list like that, break it up a little. Of course running 100 million freakin' passwords would lag it.

tazbati - January 27, 2014, 1:33 pm

well, you should guide ppl about the program a little bit more as they would need few million pass to crack their victims account. default pass list is 900 which contain really stupid passes inside, so your 10k password as well. Ppl need millions of combinations as ppl secure their facebook with good combinations in these days. So a bit more guidance would be appreciated

I've been Skyping with Bandors about my problem. He's being very helpful. Unfortunately, I'm still having problems but I'm one of those that have a mac. Has anyone been successful using this program with a mac? If so would you pm me and include an alternate way to contact you. I don't have enough posts to pm yet.

I feel like I just wasted $20. When I click on bruteforce it gives me a error, I click continue and move on. However, when I try to use my password list the thing crashes. Then when I get a smaller password list it tries the first password in the list and then just starts trying to log in with blank passwords. I'm not sure where all these vouches came from. Support would be appreciated. Also, I just saw someone selling the exact same program for $10? What gives.

The vouches are for your personhood and not the program itself? So these are invalid misleading vouches? Because I clearly could not give a shit about the vouches on a person and would rather see vouches for the program

Renalt - March 26, 2014, 10:13 pm

Yeah, I def agree this is a crack rather than a hack. Misleading title because it leads you to believe you can gain access to any account that isn't yours (which would be hacking)

Cracking is essentially automated password guessing, which is long/primitive and luck based. I used to do it alot tbh.

Good luck, though! It actually looks like a very decent cracking tool which aren't too easy to come by these days and OP seems like a pretty legitimate guy.

No, not at all. You need a password list and proxy list.

e.g. You add in a password list of 60,000,000 passwords, and a proxy list, it attempts to login to that account with each of the passwords until it is successful. It is far from instant, it takes time.

I just want to know before i buy.

EDIT: I bought it, imported the username, started cracking then 2 seconds later it said cracked finished and that it cracked 0 accounts, That was on the "simple crack" option.... I then try it on the Bruteforce option and it just says "cracking.." and its taking ages. Can someone help me i must be doing something wrong.

You insert a word list with a bunch of words. Then the program will try out each word and see if any of them are the password.

Aqua_fina - August 7, 2014, 5:26 pm

Guys can someone help me with it? I tried using it on my twitter account.

In top it asks for username/email = I write my username.

password list = I write a list of 5 passwords in a notepad (the 3rd one is my real password) in a notepad

Proxy list = i write a small list of proxy in a notepad then i open the web browser button , it opens twitter login page.

i write my username in the first slot, and i click on the password slot (in the small web browser window , which is built-in the cracker)

then i click " Start " in the program. It tells me,

Status : Trying password. and then nothing happens at all, it doesn't login the page, or anything

PS: i tried it with and without proxy, it doesn't work in both for me, also installed netframework

He's right. You most likely have bad proxies. If it's trying to bruteforce a password from an invalid connection, or the same connection many times, twitter will automatically lock the account. You can't expect proper results with an improper input.

I can't imagine that this would require a very powerful system, but I suppose you could expect better results with a better pc.

Not really - we have a section dedicated to proxies, VPNs, etc. so you can get daily proxies from that section. Also, there is a 64,000,000 password list floating around here somewhere.

So i got fresh new working proxies and i go to check another twitter account, within 10 seconds it says it cracked the password, i go to type it in to twitter and it isn't the right password. So i reset it and start it over, within about 15 seconds, it says that it's cracked the password (completely different from the first one) and i typed it in and that doesn't work either. This doesn't work. And also you told me you were going to help me over skype, which you fell through and never did.

If you try and log into an account hundreds of times from one IP it will get banned. Proxies make it look like different computers are trying it. If one proxy gets banned it will just use another.

Check the proxies to see if they are working correctly. The other glitch may be related to the problem with the proxies.

anybody can recommend something similar but works for multiple accounts

Thanks

xSlappz - March 5, 2015, 7:17 am

Not very fast, doesn't retry password if a proxy doesn't connect to the page(leaving tons of potential passwords unchecked), and isn't too fast either. My experience with this has been horrid and i've messaged bandors many times and he ignores me each and every time. I would not recommend purchasing this.

bloodhawkbh - March 20, 2015, 6:21 pm

I don't know how anyone is managing to successfully use this. I have a high end PC and this program times out with a measly 161mb password list. I decided to try it on a dummy twitter account I set up and unless you're using super HQ proxies it'll skip it, but I think it's also skipping the current password in the list. In the rare event where you do get a hit, it'll prompt verification for login and twitter wants you to enter the email associated with the account, so it's not like you can do anything when you actually hit. Am I doing something wrong? lol
