Thread: [\[New\] v3 HTTP Botnet Source Collection\[FREE\]](#)

Clutch - December 10, 2013, 10:24 pm

Due to the overwhelming response, I felt I had to release another. It's roughly twice the size as the previous pack and most have been manually tested.

Disclaimer: I have not coded any of these: most have builder sources but scan the builders and use your own discretion. If any of you have coded any of these and want them removed, just PM me.

Note: Regular Members are required to have 30+ rep. Everyone else is welcome.

LOL aww boo. Guess I'll stick to Andromeda for now. It's been working, so no complaints from me.

L3Gi0N - December 11, 2013, 9:47 am

Thanks man. I've just one question : Is this the source of the botnets (like the c++ or c files) ? Or just the panels + builder ? Thanks again.

Clutch - December 11, 2013, 9:48 am

They all have the panel files (html/php/etc..) and almost all have the source of the builder and a compiled builder.

I've also included READMEs in all the ones that didn't already have one detailing installation instructions but they're all pretty straight-forward.

__Digital__ - December 11, 2013, 11:08 am

The only sad part about this collection is 98% of them are all old.... Which in turn affects there effectiveness.... just my personal opinion.... But Good luck sharing old dirt..

Clutch - December 12, 2013, 9:28 am

Sent to everyone so far. 10-12 people.
