Thread: [300\$ PP HOLIDAY CONTEST \[updated\]\[WINNER\]](#)

Playb0y - December 12, 2013, 8:43 am

The user "Abortionist" has won the contest. I will leave the thread open so he can vouch for it.

Changed my fucking name again. It's an addiction.

In the name of Christmas one member will be getting 300$ out of my personal PP.
All I ask is for you to follow the code and wear the signature until dec. 25

Code What do you want the money for:

What do you want the money for: Personal use.
Do you deserve it: Sure, why not.
Is 1nfinity your best friend: Money is everyone's best friend.

What do you want the money for: I'm currently saving up. I'd love to have some cash laying around too.
Do you deserve it: Yes I do. I have helped many members in the past and still am. Love doing some giveaways once in a while.
Is 1nfinity your best friend: Maybe one day c:

Ninetales. - December 12, 2013, 8:48 am

What do you want the money for: I'll be honest, it'll probably go into a couple of e-books or methods on the forums or maybe into a budget of starting a small exchange service but nothing illegal or immoral. This money would be a great way to start making money for methods that include investments.
Do you deserve it: I think I deserve it, but I think other users probably deserve it more than me. I do my very best to help the community in every way I can, whether it's posting tutorials or helping members in their own threads.

Is 1nfinity your best friend: No, but he could be. ?

Thanks for the opportunity and I'll apply the signature as soon as I'm home (:

What do you want the money for:

I'm actually trying to save up for Christmas present for my family and freinds and an extra $300 would help SO MUCH.

Do you deserve it:

In all honestly, there are lots of members who probably deserve it as well. I think I do too though, I've done countless giveaways and A LOT of free graphics, if you go through my threads, you'll see this!

Is 1nfinity your best friend:

I've never met you, add me on skype though, if you're cool, I'm sure we can be friends.

What do you want the money for: To be able to afford a few more Christmas presents for my family (who is having a pretty rough time, won't go into details because I don't want to sound like I'm playing too hard for sympathy) and girlfriend maybe myself too heh without having to sacrifice being able to pay my bills and abstaining from food haha.

Do you deserve it: I work really hard, not just at my day to day job(s) but trying to monetize online as well. So I do think I deserve it but I know there's just as many people out there who struggle like me.

Is 1nfinity your best friend: I really need a best friend so I'm totally open to the idea.

CurvedMushroom - December 12, 2013, 12:30 pm

What do you want the money for: Basically if i won the contest, I wouldn't keep the money to myself, I would split it between the people on the forum who have helped me in the last 8 months.. The people who have helped me have been very generous to do it for a small fee or free so winning this contest would benefit not just me but the others around me. :)

Do you deserve it: To be very honest, I do think I deserve to win the 300$, I don't tend to post alot but I try to make all my posts as HQ as possible and report posts if needed.. If i do win I might even buy myself UB3R which i have been applicable to purchase for more than 3 months..

Is lastbreath your best friend: Won't lie.. no he Isn't but i sure can fit him in on my BFF list ;)

Thanks for this contest, CurvedMushroom

erhassettbg - December 12, 2013, 12:55 pm

What do you want the money for:

I would like to get my parents nice Christmas presents to show my appreciation for them.

Any left over I will either do a giveaway or invest into my business.

Do you deserve it:

I don't believe anyone on here really deserves a free $300, but it surely helps people with business, family, expenses, etc.

Is 1nfinity your best friend:

What do you want the money for: Buy cheap bulk things, Do a couple giveaways on HF, And keep just a couple accounts for personal use :)

Do you deserve it: Honestly, A lot of members would deserve this, Its just the fact that if I win would make feel a whole lot better, Also I have been becoming more active onto HF. Maybe this will give me a jump start and I can upgrade my self to L33T or UB3R

Is 1nfinity your best friend: Haven't gotten to know the guy, But the fact he is doing a $300 PP giveaway tells me a lot about a person.. But I'm pretty sure he would be my best friend ;)

Eryn - December 12, 2013, 2:36 pm

What do you want the money for: I want it so I can get my parents a decent Christmas present.

Do you deserve it: I feel yes that I do deserve it. I have a very long story about how my dad got injured on his employers time and they are refusing to give any information to workmans comp. He has been out of work for 3 months. He accidentally had his thumb get smashed by a sledgehammer and it completely broke his thumb. It tore tendons and made it useless. He had surgery on it but he will never be able to have full use of it again. My family is out around $16,000 since he has been unable to work. I would use this money to get my parents something for Christmas so I can see them smile. It has been so long since I have seen them smile. Thanks for hosting the giveaway and I hope you choose the most deserving.

Is 1nfinity your best friend: You seem like a real generous guy so yes we can be friends.

What do you want the money for:

Planning to give back to the HF community, save up for a special gift for my best friend, save for paid sticky,

Do you deserve it:

I've done multiple giveaways and contest on HF, from xbox live codes, paypal money giveaway, l33t member upgrades, and etc. I've recently tried to help others with certain things, I don't truly see myself as deserving as others do more than me. I do plan on spending it on good, instead of selfish stuff, I plan to do more member upgrades contest, money giveaways, money contests, donate it to HF for making my life life fulfilling, buy others awards. For real life, I plan to get something for my family for being caring, and protected me my whole life. With it I could do more than I could do now.

Is 1nfinity your best friend:

Not really, but I hope we can be very good friends on HF. You seem like a generous guy, who does everything to make everyone happy.

1nfinity thank you!

What do you want the money for:

When i saw this thread i was like jumping on my chair and i thought "OMG.. 300$.. That's a lot.. I NEED TO WIN THIS I NEED TO GET THIS NOW!" But yeah, now i'm thinking.. for what actually? It would always be good, maybe a little vacation, going to shop with my sister (I'm a girl btw) and buying lots of clothes haha. I can also give a bit to my parents, they care for me, always buy food for me and stuff, and they aren't rich at all. I'm sure i would spend the money good if i win this! ^_^

Do you deserve it:

I'm not saying i deserve this, everyone does actually. :) I see many posts in this thread were i would say of "Wow, this guy deserves it badly.."

Is 1nfinity your best friend:

I don't know 1nfinity really, if i did he must've been my friend, so kind as he is. ;D Its nice of him that he is doing this giveaway, i guess he must be rich haha!

What do you want the money for: If I do win I will be using this money towards a Minecraft server because myself and a few friends are going to work on this project that I came up with. It's something but we're hoping to get huge with this idea we started to plan out and every detail. That's what I am hoping to spend half the money towards. If I have money left over I will probably be saving it up for something I need in the future.

Do you deserve it:I don't know how to answer this question, only because I don't want to seem greedy or anything related to greed.

Is 1nfinity your best friend:By all means I do find you as a nice, generous user and high quality. I don't know you personally but if I did I would consider 1nfinity as a best friend.

I'd like to thank you for giving us a chance to win $300.

EDIT: I finally put the siggy on through my mobile device.

What do you want the money for: I really need it to buy presents for my family and it would be really helpful seeing as I am struggling to make money online and I am too young to have a job already.

Do you deserve it: I'm not trying to be full of myself but yes, I do think that I deserve it because I am a good person & I treat others with respect.

Is 1nfinity your best friend: I don't know who he is, but maybe me and him can get to know each other a bit more after the contest.

Good luck to everyone!

What do you want the money for: Honestly, I really need the money to afford a new computer I am currently trying to build. The computer I am using was built by me using spare parts my cousin had. This computer is pretty terrible but I could still use it. Now it seems like it is dying and I believe it is time for an upgrade as I had my computer for 2-3 years now. I really do need a new computer and this would be an amazing help toward the goal I am trying to achieve.

Do you deserve it: I'm not sure. I personally do think I deserve this amount of cash. Mainly because I give back to the community. I have two tutorials out since I have joined and even though that is a small amount, I believe both of them are high quality. I always help anyone who sends me a message or leaves a reply on either threads asking questions. I reply with an answer that is detailed but still understandable and most people give me great feedback for it. In the past, I also did a lot of free graphic requests and a lot of people were satisfied. I stopped doing it because my computer is dying and cannot run Photoshop correctly. Anyways, I do believe I deserve this.

Is 1nfinity your best friend: No because I really don't know you. Just being honest. It's not impossible for us to become friends, but not best friends. Best friends cannot be developed over the internet, at least, that is what I believe.

I agree to give at least $50 to a charity of my choice if I do happen to win this contest.

Thank you for hosting this contest and I wish good luck to any member who has also entered this contest.

llbg2 - December 13, 2013, 3:43 pm

What do you want the money for:

To get married. Or at least help out. Me and my fiance have will have been together for 4 years this January. With the jobs we have now and the state the economy is in, saving is extremely difficult to nigh impossible. And every time we are able to start saving, something comes up and we have to spend the money we have. $300 wouldn't get us very far but it is definitely a good start and will lay the groundwork for us to be able to add on top of.

Do you deserve it:

This question is too loaded to answer truthfully. I'm not sure if I do deserve it, but I would like to think so. I'm not the perfect person, I can be bigoted and judgmental at times. I know that are a lot of people out there who definitely deserve it more than I do. But if I were to win, I wouldn't just waste it, I would put it towards a good purpose that will exponentially increase both my fiances and my happiness.

Is 1nfinity your best friend:

No, he isn't. My one and only best friend is the holder of my heart. However, there is a possibility that he could become a close friend. I would have to get to know him first though, I have trust issues so I don't easily let people into my life. Who knows what could happen though?

Finally, I'd just like to say thanks to you for doing this. It's a good thing you are doing and it's more than most would do. Even if I don't win, I count myself lucky for this opportunity. I don't know whether you believe in God but I do and I know that good things come to those who willingly give without the hope of a reward in turn. I've seen it happen to other people and I've experienced it myself. Selflessness is a rare quality to find in people these days, so to you I say thank you for this act of kindness and may your life be full of happiness.

Glad to see people giving back for the Holiday spirit thank you so much! Goodluck to everyone and enjoy your Holiday.

What do you want the money for?: Make a couple of purchases for my family, friends, and I this Holiday season. Another reason would be to give back with a little money giveaway also!

Do you deserve it?: No one truly deserves anything unless you work for it, but I believe I am a nice human being and would honored if I were to win this giveaway.

Is d34thw15h your best friend?: I consider everyone a friend! ?

What do you want the money for: For my 18th, which is in the week after Christmas.

Do you deserve it: Not for me to decide. I'd like to think I've been a help around here, helping mostly in the Marketplace, either preventing users from getting scammed, or answer questions. Along with this, I've been helping users in the Education Nation quite a bit. Finally, I just finished my final high school exams, after working my ass off for almost a year.

What do you want the money for?: Been trying to purchase two tickets to a hockey game for the Stars for my pops. Played hockey his whole life, recreationally, but has never been to an NHL game since we don't have a team locally. It'd be a great Christmas present to get him and keep me from having to sell my personal belongings on eBay to save up for it.

Do you deserve it?: I think I do. I volunteer at Boys & Girls Club of America weekly so it'd be nice to be able to donate more than just my time to them on top of helping pops out.

Is 1nfinity your best friend?: Who said you weren't?

What do you want the money for: To pay off my final court fines, and the rest to go towards a bill for a new phone/plan.

Do you deserve it: I feel I do, I'll go ahead and give you the background story as to why I ended up in the courts. It started off a couple years ago with me just smoking the good 'ol maryjane. Eventually, I got caught up with more problematic people in my city. This lead to me trying out anything and everything that would get me fucked up. It went to weed, eventually MDMA/ecstasy, various pharmecutical pills such as hydrocodone, oxycontin/percs, fentanyl, and even some cold medicine such as DXM, etc. That lead to me ending up doing heroin. Granted, I never shot the crap up, but I was doing rails of it every day and smoking it. This led to a horrible addiction. I was eventually stealing from my own parents (and only them) to support my habit. When they didn't have any cash; I'd steal their personal items to pawn and get cash for my bad habit(s). After awhile, I ended up getting arrested, going to court and sent to detention. Luckily I got everything dropped to one minor misdemeanor charge which is set to be expunged from my record as a whole once I'm terminated from my probation sentence. It's been one hell of a ride, but I've finally been clean for over a year, I've gone and started my life. Got rid of any negative influences in my life and have been striving to do the best I can. I've gone through counseling, the court system withdrawals due to my addiction and after a long time, I'm finally clean. It's my best achievement yet. I've paid back my family for any damages and stolen property, I've come closer to them as a whole and actually have a stable and excellent relationship with my family once again! I'm not getting anything for Christmas this year, which I'm completely fine with. :) But this would help me out so much, and let me finally be able to pay the rest of my court fines, allowing me to be terminated from probation and the rest of it to go towards a phone for myself as I've been without one for the past year. I've been striving to help people as much as possible, whether it be with personal problems, physical help, etc. And this would just mean so much! As for a charity of my choice, I feel I would want it to go to some kind of rehabilitation of drug abuse charity, or a cancer charity; as that has impacted my family greatly.

What do you want the money for:

I'm in dire need of money since I'm a student and I have to help my parents pay the bills. Me and my family are in a bit of harsh problem right now and if I don't make something this or next month my studies have to end sadly :(. I will use them wisely like some investition. I have some very good ideas. With this money I can invest in something that will sustain me long term. Helping me now is a very big and appreciated long term help

Do you deserve it:

I have helped all people I could here. Maybe others deserve this too, I have a free service giveaway still running. As I said earlier this money helping me long-term will practically bounce back after 2-3 months for the HF community because then I will have enough to help other people too.

What do you want the money for:

So, a year ago I moved house from the Netherlands to Surinam (a country in South America). And I left a lot of friends there. This summer I went back to the Netherlands for 4 weeks, and it was so awesome to see everybody again. As the tickets are very expensive (around $1000) and I really want to go in April or May again for 3 weeks again, this would really help!

Do you deserve it:

So, I had a pretty tough year as you may see here above. And I really want to go to the Netherlands!

What do you want the money for: I would use the money for my room. I recently bought a new corner desk for my birthday and am trying to redo my room. I have a lot of things I need to buy for it to perfect my room and would love the money because it would make a great help into improving my room. Another idea I would use this money for would be for my Lacrosse Training. I am a goalie in lacrosse and would like personal training in order to get better and be ready for my high school season.

Do you deserve it: Not Really, to be honest, I haven't really been a good member to this community. I have been a member for 4 years and never gave anything to anyone. I am trying to change it and thus am becoming a better person and feel better about my self. One thing that I did recently for this forum is that I pmed about 100+ members (all types) and included a message saying something along the lines of "You are loved and mean a great deal to somebody. You matter. If you ever are feeling down remember! <http://whosthecutest.com/>". This made a lot of members feel happy and better and I believe I made a great difference in many members even though I did not know them personally. I don't have proof of this but you can check out my rep and see people saying "thanks made my day better" etc.

Is 1nfinity your best friend: No, Don't know who that even is. Not going to sugar coat it like other members.

What do you want the money for: I want to go to college next year. This prize could help me set things up in the Internet Marketing world.

Do you deserve it: In my opinion: Yes, I think I deserve it because it will help me getting/starting a life on my own. Not getting presents for myself or other people. (Not including the charity part)

Is d34thw15h your best friend: Not at the moment. However, I highly respect him for doing such a great huge giveaway. He can become my best friend any moment he wants to!

iNuke - December 15, 2013, 3:12 am

Hello, nice thing you're doing.

What do you want the money for: I'd like that money to buy some gifts to my family. Indeed, each year, I just buy a gift for my sister, but I'm not able to buy for my parents. This year I would like to do it, and the money you're offering in this contest would help me a lot.

Do you deserve it: I can not tell you if I deserve it or not. This is your choice. All I can tell you is that you can check my threads to see what I gave to the community and to see how I help the community. I am also helping people by PM, as I am a part of the 143 Innuendo/Life help desk. But as I said, the choice is yours, I can't tell you if I deserve your money or not, I can just help you to make your choice.

Is d34thw15h your best friend: No you're not my best friend. I don't have any best friend on HackForums, excepting some brothers that I love. If you would like to speak though, just PM me. ?

I agree to give at least $50 of the winnings to a charity of my choice, and it will surely be to help the Not-for-profit Social Networking Service from 143. You can read more about it here:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3918615>

Thank you for this kind opportunity, and thank you for sharing the love. All I said was honest.

What do you want the money for: I'll probably put the money aside and keep saving up for the motorcycle I'm buying next year, I've already took around £200 or so out of the pot for Christmas so far so I guess you could say the $300 would be going towards filling the gap which was made by Christmas D:, thank you!

Do you deserve it: I think I do, there will be people who deserve it more then me of course, I think I deserve it as I've been scammed quite a bit off HF (like $350-$400), and this could really help me right now.

What do you want the money for:

I don't really want this to sound like a sob story, but this year has been rough on my parents and

I've told them to hold back on the gifts because of it. If I were to get this money I would most likely use it to purchase something for my little brother and sister before I ship to bootcamp.

Do you deserve it:

My actions may not have been as note worthy as some, but I've done what I could to give and help others. I feel it's conceited to say you deserve something, I think whether or not I deserve it is solely up to you.

Is 1nfinity your best friend:

I've unfortunately not had the pleasure to meet one's acquaintance. I'm sure we would get along great though, so maybe PM me and lets have a chat?

Hey OP,

Thanks so much for this contest if I win this would help me alot, Your a really nice guy for doing this:

What do you want the money for:

I would like the money because this Christmas I won't be getting anything, because my parents don't celebrate it, so if I win this money I'm going to keep $200 and buy myself a Nexus 5 and possibly give it to my mom as a present for her. The other $50 will go towards a charity such as Samartian Services. This way others can have a happy holiday that they will never forget. I wan't to make Christmas bright for everyone not just me or my parents or my siblings everyone should have a holiday they would never forget! I am also working on a Science Fair project for my school as I am a student and its costing me alot its costing around $50 for creating a simple flashlight. I would honestly love you if you can make this happen because I love building things and this would be my first project in real life for building something useful. My parents say its too expensive so they won't finance it and I can't get a job yet in my country so I don't know where I can get the money!

Do you deserve it:

I think I deserve this but then again its just my thoughts, its up to you OP to decide. I do alot to try and help around HF but not because of the money but because of my kindness. I am not here to force you but rather " convince " you in deciding in favor of me. I've done alot of giveaways & tutorials on HF so it would be really nice to get something back at the time I need it the most.

Is d34thw15h your best friend:

He would be if He gave me a free blowjob :P

Kurisu Makise - December 15, 2013, 11:36 pm

Sorry for the giant brick wall but I feel that I must explain everything that has happened to me this year because I don't think anybody entering this contest has ever been as ripped off and used as much as I have.

What do you want the money for: I would use it to invest and multiply the amount over time because I can live without needing to pleasure myself instantly despite it being my birthday in a week from now. Even though I'm probably not getting any presents again this year because my parents simply can't afford it. After perhaps quadrupling or even turning it into 2k in a through legitimate means I would host a duplicate of this giveaway, give a portion of it to charity for people in need, and finally fix up my victimised rip-off computer that's not even stable :\. I would then clear up my big debt of around $400 owed to friends but only a 1/4 of that debt was actually spent for self-gain the rest went towards my closest friends as a token of our friendship. and then buy myself a cheap but decent $100 Android phone, because I only need a basic phone that is capable of running Android apps. It would greatly benefit my life as I am currently self-studying Japanese and really need to buy some study materials which will keep me going and motivated as well as having an electronic dictionary app on my new phone as my current one is a Samsung SGH-Z400. I used to have a useless Nokia 5230 that as a joke of a smartphone and ran on Symbian which nobody develops for anymore as well as costing $300 NZD 4 years ago. Where now its worth about $50. And so I could use it as a LIGHT-timer for my running that doesn't sap me of my energy because my current phone is heavy as hell and it's the only thing I can use to time myself. I can't even enjoy listening to music when I'm out because my headphones that my brother bought me for $20 draw too much power that my crappy little MP3 player can't handle and ends up distorting the music. Oh yeah I completely forgot to mention this as well. I even have friends who steal from me. But I can't do anything about it because they're so violent and might end up throwing Molotov's at my house because that's how much of an anger issue he has. So it's not like I can defriend him either and when accused it's like playing with death. That's something that has really upset me :\

Do you deserve it: This depends on where you're coming from when asking this question. If you were to base this question off what I've done irl to those around me and what I've been affected by then yes. For starters this year has been a whole-round up scam year not only for me but for my family AND friends. I was scammed of around 800 USD and 40 hours of my labour from Internet Marketing with someone whom I called a best friend and put all my trust in. We were making a steady income but then turns out he was making up false costs and stashing the money away for himself. I only figured it out and found out once he went ahead and bought himself a brand new release-day $1200 NZD Galaxy S4. As well as these unnecessary upgrades for his computer. While I had let him build my computer for me for $600 NZD(my parents paid for it) only to find that he exaggerated the prices and got away with about $200 nzd in his pocket. And the misfortune I had on top of that when I installed some new ram wrong that had heat spreaders on it so it was confusing and ended up blowing my mobo. Had to spend ANOTHER $100 on a crappy motherboard that doesn't even support USB 3.0. Hell the computer didn't even come with a graphics card, on top of that it came with a troll psu that could very well blow up if I overload it and destroy every single part connected to my computer. So if I wish to upgrade it to its full potential I'll need to fork out another $80 for a PSU and another $200 for a graphics card that will match my processor. My friends had fallen into the same scheme because of me. Because I had been best friends with this guy for about 5 years and I used to sleep over at his place at least twice a month only to find our entire friendship was built up of lies.

I have gone through many defriendals this year and come close to many. 2013 has been one hell of a year on me as school continues to burden me as well as my losses. My parents may or may not get back the $1800 NZD which was borrowed and added onto the big fat mortgage we had. It was meant to be invested in Bitcoins whom we would've made a great profit only to find that the company we sent it to started selectively scamming people shortly after the payment was sent :\. So that just adds more stress to my shoulders. On top of all this I believe I deserve it because I've gone through so much shit this year. So much before I've even reached adulthood, I'm only 16 atm so it's not like I can go out and get a job and look at this petty-money like nothing. I only got into debt in the first place because I was making a steady income and I didn't have the money upfront when it was required but then it turned out my business partner was scamming me.. I even spent about $400 on a PC for my best friend because I felt sorry for him because of the situation he was in and thought it would come off as nothing because I was making solid income but then yeah- My family is only JUST surviving off the unemployment benefit and I've been through a lot. As well as this I almost ended up defriending him recently but managed to resolve the issue I had with him.

This money could change my life very easily and it could change many others where I plan to donate it to after I'm done with it. That $50 and more I would give to the Child Foundation so it can go towards feeding the hungry and building wells and shelters for them. As well as schooling so they can get an education whom most take for granted. I can't even afford to hang out with friends because I don't have an allowance and my parents can't afford to let me do that. It just piles onto the depression and boredom I go through everyday as its the school holidays and I've gotten sick of video games. I get so bored that I start pondering the meaning of life. Christmas came early for my friends 8 months ago but I'm the one whose taken on the burden of a debt as a result. So if I were to be chosen then this money wouldn't be spent selfishly. It would simply be recovering the lost funds and make up for all the crap I've received this year. My parents don't celebrate Christmas either because it's too expensive and I just don't get what's happened to Christmas. Kids getting $500 presents and what not it's just crazy. That ain't christmas that's just an excuse to spend a lot of money. Back when I was a kid I was happy with just getting a couple of books or a board game for Christmas. In regards to this question as HF. I believe I've contributed to the community over the years somewhat.

TL;DR: Please read it so you can fully grasp the situation I'm in. But in short, I've been ripped off hardcore this year, I've gone through a lot of crap that people my age probably won't even experience until they're in their mid-30s. I'm a very caring person who usually puts others before myself and as a result of this I have buried myself into a debt of around $400. I've been robbed of $2600 if you include my parents money and have been victim of many betrayals. I would go more in-depth about my situation but this is the internet. Giving away too much information could very well screw you over.

Is d34thw15h your best friend: For what this money will go towards it will change someone's life and make them forget their regrets and sorry past. If I were doing a giveaway like this I would give it to them in a heart beat. Because that's what I've been doing all this year only to have been taken advantage of on numerous occasions. Having a smartphone would enable me to fix my sleep problems by means of finding a stable sleep pattern. It would aid me in my Japanese learning adventure that will not only make me smarter with school as a result of learning a new language but will help me reach my long-term goals and live out my dream life. By having access to an electronic dictionary and purchasing motivational and guiding ebooks in packages for a combined total of $50. Would greatly help me. So for the small price it would cost to change my life. Yes, I would highly cherish your thoughtful actions and make you my best friend anyway and hopefully one day give back to you but in a greater sum. It would also enable me to finally get a girlfriend because requiring a girlfriend requires at least some money, right? I live about 25 KM away from the city whom most of my friends reside around. So if I want to hang out for the day I have to spend about $5.20 just in transport. Which can be rather demanding as I live in a family of 4 and because of my mums recent step-down because of the recession her company couldn't afford to keep her around anymore. Her giant leaving-sum is only what's propping up the unemployment benefit funds to a liveable standard at least for now.. And since it was so large the IRD is demanding she pays back the tax funds that we've received in the form of the child-support benefit. Where parents are given $80 a week for children under 18 in order to financially support the family. Now the IRD wants all that money back from last year which comes to around $4000. So that even tops our debt off even more :\

But do you see the big picture yet? How much this money could change my life and rub off on my parents? As a result I don't think anybody in my situation could turn you down to being a best friend.

Perhaps I'll finally be able to see a Christmas where I don't sit through it like any other day as I've done in previous years :\

Edit: Great, just found out my parents are $7000 overdraft and on top of that, that my hard drive is a goner, <https://puu.sh/5Qva7/b73b9da7d0.png> . I've been off HF for the past day because I've formatted this dying-hard drive and have been zeroing it in an attempt to fix it, didn't work so now tryin HDD Regenerator and hoping for the best. It's not like I can RMA it either because I have no box nor receipt. Sigh this just means more debt.. Because I only have this dying hard drive and a 6 year old Hitachi 500gb.

What do you want the money for: I am using the money to invest into my home studio I am building in January. The total cost will be $3700 but every little bit counts. I am also living on my own in an apartment at 16, so I only really have so much money to throw around. I am not going to lie and say I absolutely need this, as I do not. It would just be nice to have as $250 is only a few dollars off of the mic I have in mind. I will be recording rap/ hip-hop.

Do you deserve it: I see no reason as to why I wouldn't!

What do you want the money for: To prevent these greedy pigs from winning that money. There's people who really need it, you fool. I can't let the money fall into the wrong hands aka weaboos/drug dealers/PPD billionaire entrepreneurs/folks who enjoy comparing the size of their "parts"/members of HF.

Do you deserve it: No, I do not. There are honestly millions of people who need it more than me. (But none on HF) 300 dollars is a lot of money. In fact, if you really want to be generous, you should give all of that money to charity. None of us deserve it.

Do you really know what it's like to live in poverty? There are kids who can't even get a piece of plastic for their birthdays or the holidays that are watching you pigs in 'murica blow dough on your drugs/criminal fees. Stop hacking/killing people/robbing banks and do something decent please and so that you don't need to spend so much money for yourself. Help others who need help.

Is lastbreath your best friend: No. You are a jerk. Screw you! I highly doubt that anybody who has access to a computer and the internet, l33t/ub3r status, and a warm house really needs 300 dollars ASAP to survive or "help" their family out. When people say that they want to help others out or pull themselves out of a bad situation, it means buying an apple product as a weak and pathetic attempt to buy happiness for oneself. We aren't living in Somalia or North Korea if we're posting on this thread. I hate you for thinking that HF would be a good place to spread the Christmas cheer. All you see on this thread are nothing but lies. Unless they post proof that they live in a third world country (with a crappy rented wooden pc) and are struggling to survive, its BS. Don't give money to these guys. In fact, you shouldn't even trust me. But the point is, you're a horrible person and you need to do something worthwhile, not giving money to people on a "hacking site" that encourages people to be selfish jerks. We won't be friends unless you change.

What do you want the money for: About two weeks ago the disease cancer was found in my mother's breasts. I've came here to find a way out and I am trying to earn some money online. My dad left us alone when I was only 11. I am the person who took care of my mother ever since then. I will invest all the money in all the hospital visits she has to make. In The Netherlands you will get about 60% refunded of all the research. This is since my mom and I don't have a proper insurance. This makes our 'own risk' (Dutch term) very high, so we need to pay around 40% of all the research which has to be done.

Do you deserve it: I don't, my mom does. She has always been there for me, in the good and in the bad times. She is an angel in my eyes and I don't wanna lose her aswell.

Is d34thw15h your best friend: I personally do not know d34thw15h since I am new to HackForums.

I will send $50,- to any charity that is researching the disease cancer.

Thanks for reading,

What do you want the money for:

I'd like the money so I can buy a couple of things for myself, and then do a few of my own giveaways on here for things that I see people needing the most at the current time, but I will make various giveaways with different things as there are others who may want/need different things, and I want everyone else to benefit from the $300 like I did even if I won.

What do you want the money for: Will be putting the money towards building my new computer, my old computer is going to my family.

Do you deserve it: I do indeed, have spent a lot of my time helping other HF members on here, not once have I ever won a contest, unlucky me.

Is d34thw15h your best friend: No idea who that is, so no.

Thanks for the contest buddy.

What do you want the money for: It would help me out financially ALOT - as i've got multi-ligament damage + miniscus (cartilage) damage in my leg - and havent been able to walk/work for 5 months so far, still a few months to go.

Unable to receive government $ support, Currently in debt Thousands.

Do you deserve it: Well - I've got Quite bad luck the past year, Stuffed leg, cant walk, ps3's breaking, lost license.. so hopefully i may get some good luck coming my way!

Is d34thw15h your best friend: - at this present point in time - we've never spoken, but i'd be more than happy to start talking & become friends with you d34thw15h, not being able to walk limits me to what i can do - and if i've got another person to chat to i'd be more than happy! :D

Merry Christmas D34thw15h, Stay Safe!

What do you want the money for: I deserve this money more than everyone right now because I'm going to donate it to another member on HF, a member who is going through some really rough times he goes by the name of Spyro The Dragon. It makes me feel really shitty that his family isn't doing so well and mine is doing ok. I've known the member for 5 years off of a game we use to play called SAMP. His name is George and his mother has been diagnosed with a lung disease and has other medical issues so I've made it my duty to start raising money for any way I possibly can. I'm also saving up to fly George to the US to become friends in real life as well, because George was there for me when I had no friends and basically supported me through my hateful experience in middle school. Him and his family deserve it more than anyone here.

Do you deserve it: No, I don't my friend George's Family does.

Is d34thw15h your best friend: I'm not sure I've met him yet but I've been checking him out and he interests me, someone I may want to get to know.

What do you want the money for: I invest all my money to earn slowly but surely.

Why do you deserve it: I deserve it because I got scammed 205$ yesterday & needing to buy X-Mas gifts.

Is d34thw15h your best friend: If d34thw15h being my best friend gets me closer to winning this contest, he sure is!

Thanks for this giveaway & goodluck to everyone.

What do you want the money for: Prolly use $50-$60 of it so I can take them out for a nice dinner we couldn't afford otherwise, like Jake's, or Golden Corral. Not sure yet.

Do you deserve it: Probably not as much as some of the other people who do amazing things with their lives.

Is d34thw15h your best friend: I don't know him personally but if by d34thw15s you mean Infinity, he seems like a chill guy anybody could be friends with.

How about us without any rep? Can we avail this contest?

St?ven - December 18, 2013, 11:16 am

What do you want the money for:

In all honesty, I'm not entirely sure what I would do so the remaining $250, seeing as $50 is going to charity as per the rules, but it would sure help me financially seeing as this year, on August 14th, I had my first child with my gf of 3+ years. I had to leave my job at the shittiest place on earth, wal mart, and moved up move 5 hours away from home to be with her and help support her and my son. Ive been living off unemployment for now, looking for a job, with no avail.

This money would be great to put towards Christmas gifts, pay back some of my credit card loans, or even to give directly to my son as we put $50 bi weekly into a bank for my son.

Do you deserve it:

I like to believe I've done a lot and helped people a lot in this world. I use to be a delivery guy for food for 4-5 years before I got into retail, and met a lot of people and even became close friends with them, all while helping my personal problem of being shy and scared to talk to people. I often find myself buying, gifting, or giving things to others when they need, and wish I could do more. I'm sure there's other people who deserve it more, or those who are apparently disease ridden or physically damaged on the forum, but in hopes of making this Christmas special and to give back to my son and my family, who have helped me so much since I was young, I hope to maybe deserve it more.

Is d34thw15h your best friend:

I'm guessing this is your old username, and I'd have to say at this very moment no. I have not seen you around, though I do keep a low profile on here, so I can't say i Know you, But anything is possible.

Good luck to everyone, and merry Christmas. ?

What do you want the money for: Im currently in the process of saving up for something substantial IRL, this will go towards it.

Do you deserve it: Who really deserves free money honestly, but since we are listing reasons why, I make youtube guide videos that have helped thousands of game players who watched my videos, and I provide employment for members of HF through my business, if those count at all :P

Is lastbreath your best friend: Won't lie, never met you before, but you can't be too bad if your willing to give away to the community.

Just entering this because i can

What do you want the money for: I personally don't want the money, donate all of the $300 to a charity of your choice.

Do you deserve it: I don't need it, but there's people in the world who could really do with anything right now and $300 is plenty to turn someones life around or help a lot of people.

Is lastbreath your best friend: If he does the above, yeah.

?Bloodhawk? - December 19, 2013, 6:08 am

What do you want the money for: College next year, been working for the past 2 to 3 years (since towards the end of my sophomore year) for money for my college tuition. I was looking to Purdue or IU and this would also help a ton!

Do you deserve it: It would really help out, dad left me, my sister, and mom about 6 or 7 years ago, but only to work in Florida with his brother managing a restaurant, then with the restaurant went out of business, he started moving around the states working anywhere, because when he sold the restaurant we had in my hometown, in the contract it said he couldn't work at any restaurants here in my city (I don't know why...). So he goes around the states working where ever he could, but then after a year he literally disappears.. So me and my family are left here, part of my middle school and high school without any money but what was in our savings and my mom begging her direct family for spare money. Every now and then, my dad popped up and sent us some money, but would disappear again. End of Junior year, my mom got a hold of him and convinced him to come back, and manage at this great restaurant in my hometown, but after 3 months or so, just randomly without any notice, he just disappears again. We found him through a lawyer in September in Texas, we went down and got him to sign divorce papers. Nobody knows about this in real life, none of my friends or anybody. I don't like talking about this, but I thought it could be appropriate online on this thread anonymously. Also, I would be more than grateful to donate $50 to a charity. For the past few months, I have donated part of my church tithe (10% of paycheck) to unicef. Proof of the donations- <http://screencast.com/t/83mOUvwvkPct> First one of $32 (full 10%), and the second was $20 (5% and the other 5% went into church offering).

Is lastbreath your best friend: Fairly new member on hackforums so no, but would love to get to know him.

Anomander Rake - December 19, 2013, 9:54 am

What do you want the money for: Visiting GF who has been gone, half way across the world.

Do you deserve it: Yeah. I've been disabled for a few years now, and have been in severe pain for the past 6 months. Completely unable to work or function in society. Just trying to scrape some money together to get a flight. Seems like every time I think shit can't get worse in my life, I turn a corner and it does. Figure I've been accruing some good will somewhere or another.

Is lastbreath your best friend: fgt

P.S. - You'll own my signature forever if I win.

What do you want the money for?:

I am going to use the money for Christmas presents, for my family and loved ones. The Christmas Spirit is most important, that is why if I win this contest I am going to give half of the money to people in need. I will do it in the Christmas night. The rest will go for gifts and Hack Forums. After all, this community keeps us together for the best and we must contribute back whenever we can do it...

Do you deserve it?:

Answering that question is not as simple as it looks, you will be the judge of that. I really cannot state that I deserve this amount of money more than anyone else here on HackForums because there can always be people in a greater need. I hope that the truly most deserving member will win this generous contest!

Is lastbreath your best friend?:

To be honest, I have never came across OP until today. That does not really matter because he seems like a nice person. Making this contest for this special occation is just awesome. I hope that you will continue to contribute in future for our amazing community, friend. Take care!

Merry Christmas and remember guys, always do good.

Is lastbreath your best friend: My soulmate ;)

The Wreckage - December 22, 2013, 1:25 pm

What do you want the money for?: Well honestly I'm going to buy my two best friends Christmas presents with it, I'm buying them presents anyways but it would help a lot.

Do You Deserve it?: The money would be going to a good cause and the rest would be going to myself except the $50 for charity. So I mean I suppose I deserve it.

Is lastbreath your friend?: If he wants to be, everyones my friend if they want to :3

Nick Burkhardt - December 22, 2013, 1:32 pm

What do you want the money for: I think its nice to donate to charity, so children can have a good christmas too. Also i'd spent my own money for my family so they can have a nice christmas aswell :) I mean we aint broke, but we are not rich either so more money will also help us :)

Do you deserve it: People with a good heart does always deserve luck in life, so yeah i think i deserve to win this contest.

Is lastbreath your best friend: A kind man, donating to charity is always welcome.

What do you want the money for: I want the money to buy christmas gifts for my family :)

Do you deserve it: Yes I deserve it, I deserve because I think I am a decent guy and I work to the hardest of my abillites.

Is lastbreath your best friend: lastbreath sounds pretty awesome from what I have heard I would love to be best friends with you so yes.

LMFAO. - December 23, 2013, 7:30 am

What do you want the money for: I'll probably use half of it to pay my car insurance for this month, and the other half will go towards paying off Christmas gifts that I've bought this season.

Do you deserve it: I think I do. I'm only 17 and I'm required to pay for all of my expenses. I work hard to pay necessary bills every month and barely make it by each month.

Is lastbreath your best friend: You are now! But seriously, really good thing you're doing here. It's nice to see someone who has money giving it back to the people.

Also, is it possible for our $50 donation to go towards a fund on indiegogo? There's a few tech projects that I would love to donate to.

Legacy © - December 23, 2013, 11:37 am

What do you want the money for: Last month I got fired because my function wasn't needed anymore. I have been searching for new jobs but it isn't so easy in these times. I got some money left to pay for my appartement and for food for a max. 2 months more. Computing was always a hobby of mine and now I am trying to make some money on internet. Since I am new into this buisness and I also have no money to invest, it would be a perfect starting capital to invest in methods and to get knowlegde about how the Internet really works. I would also buy an upgraded account on Hackforums because I really like it here.

Do you deserve it: In my opinion everyone deserves a chance to be happy and to do what they really like.

Is lastbreath your best friend: You don't need to give me 300$ to be your best friend. You can be that any day.

EDIT: I tried to put the signature but it requires 50 post to make a signature. I got 11 posts left before 50 I will probably make it today or tomorrow and I will put the signature.

What do you want the money for:

Recently, has been scammed for a guy that never brings me my things. With that money now im fucked because can't start other project. The rest of the money its to help a local charity that needs some money for buy food and all other stuffs, and since I'm Living at canary islands, the island Fuerteventura, its getting worse, all economy is shitted and fucked and a lot of families don't have nothing to buy to his childs for this christmas and others don't have food.. Would be great if I can help them.

Do you deserve it: All people can tell his truth or fake history. Mine its in 2 situation. Scammed and always instead having money or not, helping to people who hasnt got nothing. If I win this, I'll cover my scammed money and the rest 100% to the local charity. So probably I would deserve it? Well why not? But always, I prefer this money goes to people which all really needs :)
