Thread: [Scammed \$970 \(1BTC\) by Moe' \(The Don Killuminati \) UID = 1535763 650+ R \[Unresolved\]](#)

ott-hon - December 17, 2013, 7:03 am uh I dont even know where to start, I wanted to trade 1btc for 970 pp, as I sent him the first part (0.5btc) he said some bs about his pp and wanted the second part too. As I sent the second part he went offline for 20 hours, later he responded that he have sent a pm to his "PP holder". Today is the 6. day and he refuses to send me back my bitcoins or pp, as you can see from the pictures he is totally fine with this scam report and he told me to open it so why not ?

He already cleared my bitcoins somewhere else...

Trust me, my $400 is all I want back right now, what really pisses me off is that he'd do this during christmas, so when it comes to buying presents for people I've had to downsize a lot.

But he keeps saying he's in a 'situation', well so am I, I have gifts to get for people and uni to prepare for - I don't need someone 'trusted' to take my money without explanation then do a giveaway with what I was buying in order to cover up my rep.

You could try to ask members who have echanged with him before and see if the BTC address you sent to is the same. That would prove that it was him who has your coins, and not some magical account hacker. Then again, any smart scammer would have created a new BTC address for the spree, but you never know. Good luck, I really hope you get your money back.

It doesn't matter, Mohatu. It's his account. It's his responsibility to secure HIS account. Anything done on his account IS his responsibility otherwise he will forever join the scores of others who were "hacked" and come back as if nothing happened. If he truly cares about his reputation here then he will make this right otherwise he is a scammer because he didn't secure his account enough with all of the security features available to secure our emails and the like. Excuses, excuses and more excuses in my opinion!

No internet? no power? what? not like its just one email or pm for the staff to close the account, no he had to scam ppl you let it happen by letting "a friend" compromise your account so regardless of "who" it was you are responsible.

Besides, this is going on a 6 month old scam report... If you had the money or any intention of paying it back id think it would have happened already

Doesn't help that this is 1 of 3? open scam reports on the account

I didn't know said "friend" I said that to protect someone as I do not think ANYONE no matter what the circumstance deserves to be hunted down for such little money. That and said "friend" shouldn't even be doing it for such little money it's also pathetic. Also it's 1 of 2, if you check the "third" one that one was a mistake on the other party and was resolved. ? Stop thinking your hot shit when you just look up a name and see oh a scam report must be a scammer.

"such little money" ? 1000USD is hardly 'little money'

One minute its a friend the next minute its a scammer that your.... trying to protect...? Regardless of all those facts it seems quite evident your account was used to defraud another individual.

You seem to be aware of who this '3rd party' is but unable to get the money back or explain who it is or how they managed to use your account twice to scam. Whats to prevent this from happening again? Or to rectify the problem of a missing 1k usd?

Thats kinda why ive been ing the threads, I hate to be a nig if Don is being straight with us all but it seems like he wants everyone to delete all posts/reps related to the scams without giving any of us reason to believe he wasn't involved.

His account is of high stature and could continue to be used for scamming if it is indeed compromised.... I'm aware of the forum rules and staff not being involved but i agree with what that member said, If they did get involved sure it may be a bit more work but it would decrease scam reports drastically. Only problem is that it would make it much harder to determine scammers from legit members, since they would know they have to lose they might play it smart or try to gain trust then pull a fast one.

All those fake rep and attitude.

Why doesn't the moderators take action against him?

beachythebum - November 22, 2014, 3:13 pm

I haven't heard an update from this in a while, $900 scam report still open with him still very active in the marketplace.

Both sides of the stories are available, and I would love to help but financially it's not happening currently.

Pinhead Larry - February 22, 2015, 2:17 pm

Goes to show you can't trust rep. A lot of known members are becoming LQ scammers. Ashame, I hope everything works out for you.

I hope sometime people will start researching about things, very few actually do research.

So The Don Killuminati, you're claiming you were hacked but in the same time, you posted the same BTC address that got the money TWICE in BTC giveaways, in July 2013 and December 2013?

July 2013: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3604717&pid=33792341#pid33792341>

December 2013:

Pictures in case you delete them:Spoiler \(Click to View\)

So what's up? You were hacked in July 2013 and December 2013 aswell and the hacker was posting in BTC giveaways? I don't think so buddy.

This is a great! Entering into 10 cent giveaways aswell, has a money making ebook :')

Kongou - April 19, 2015, 2:38 am

Don also mentioned he was making 20k a day lol, so a couple posts got back to that and it all got deleted for some reason. I mean if he claims that, why would he have scam reports open.. he even offered me to change the neutral I gave him into a positive and he would give it back, pathetic guy.

Broke b0y scammer.

DamienVC - September 6, 2015, 7:58 pm

He has been punished. You wouldn't probably get your money back but he would continue scamming other users like there is no tomorrow but in the end he got banned. $2000+ unresolved scam reports, but yeah, user got a punishment silentkill223 - January 30, 2016, 8:58 pm

Wow what a jerk, like his Paypal holder has 900 layin around...

Why are you replying on a 3 year old thread?

Fucking gravedigger.
