velox - December 18, 2013, 9:10 am

How is it "more efficient than any other turboer"?

Aluminum - December 18, 2013, 9:43 am

(Dec 18, 2013 10:14 AM)Nox? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) He presents a fair point, not only is it expensive as some multi-turboers, but it's also Xbox only. Well, we are using a more advanced and more stable backend code that makes it a better turboer than most other turboers available.

The software is made only for xbox gamertags because we feel that we wanted to focus on one thing, and make it the best out of it instead of making many more features that lacks basic stuff, and the price has also been set at a fair price because of people that want's only a xbox gamertag turboer from what I know we are the chepeast turboer that is still working and that is stable, fast and affordable.

Figma - December 18, 2013, 9:58 am
