Thread: Failure in Port Forward \(need vpn Suggestion\)

BlazeTro - December 18, 2013, 8:57 am

Guys,

i'm a failure in port forwarding..(no matter what i try i get fucking 'connection refused') i already posted my issue here so my last change is to get a vpn which supports port forwarding.. my eye caught at nvpn (but dedicated ip is out of stock in india so i'll wait if i get nvpn) and opticvpn (but its not available for india).. i want some promising result so i want get to assure that darkcomet will work hassle free with vpn..

i want some suggestion which vpn should i use (which is available for india) ?
any tips and suggestions regarding vpn and port forwarding must be appreciated..

just a quick question does it affect downloading/uploading speed?

mooreblech - December 18, 2013, 9:07 am you can contact me on skype (mooremoore26),i will give you a vpn with static ip and port forwarding enabled

how much cost? how much its duration? @mooreblech

I would use www.nVPN.net. It doesn't matter that they don't have a VPN available in your country, the connection shouldn't be effected that much. Just choose a country that is closest to yours. Also, I personally think it's better to choose a VPN which isn't located in the same country as you, for security reasons.

just to know that can i deactivate vpn at any time?(when i don't want to use like when i'm downloading or uploading) i want to be assured that is there a 100% guarantee in nvpn in port forwarding?

yes sure it is 100 % guarantee , i am at nvpn.net for two years now with dedicated and static ip with russia and singapore location , you can of course enable and disable your vpn when you want , and port forwarding is fast and easy , just type the port and hit enter you will never be disppointed with nvpn , maybe your speed of downloading will be a little less fast (really a little as all the vpn do)but that it all si

best regards
