Thread: [\[Notice\] Someone is impersonating me \[Notice\]](#)

B?tcoin - December 18, 2013, 10:56 pm

I was recently informed by a fellow member of HF that someone was impersonating me. This person was impersonating me via Skype.

This is a screenshot that Pikachu has kindly provided.

Please be careful, and please verify that it is I on HF. I will be happy to PM you for verification.

I have no idea where else to put this thread and as I will most likely be dealing in the Crypto-Currency sections of HF, I thought this would be the most appropriate place.

If admin could please move this thread to the proper location if this is in the wrong place.

Thanks everyone, and hopefully he doesn't claim many victims.

Skype uses the systems default font. if they changed it, of course it will look different.

Do you really think I would falsely impersonate someone who was impersonating a member trying to scam me? No. Lol

This would be more easily agreeable if there were proof that this is Pikachu's skype.

I have no desire to do so. OP very well might want to, if he is indeed telling the truth.

What? I actually made this thread after being notified by Pikachu. If this guy impersonating is a fake, I am more relieved than anything else.

Also, I put this out here so that people don't get scammed by a person using my name, nothing else.
