Thread: Fake Earnings and Vouch Exchanges.

vmanx - December 19, 2013, 1:08 pm

Let me get something out of the way first, THIS IS NOT SALES TRASHING. I have noticed on several threads, there are members who exchange vouches and fake payment proofs when there are other members who actually bought the e-book's and didn't make a dime. The sad part is, all of these but 1 are Ub3r's. Regardless if they have a little "skype group" or whatever the case may be.

I am not mentioning names because you can clearly see the names in the pictures. Everyone be careful about which e-book you purchase, because chances are it doesn't work. The thing is if other people post on the thread saying the e-book doesn't work and these guys post $100+ payment proof on the first day, its common sense that something is bullshit. There may not be anything in the rules against it, but its immoral to sell someone an inadequate product.

Wait, I don't know if I'm missing something out here but how do you know the are fake?

Edit: Nvm I see what you're trying to get at but you know I wouldn't say there is enough proof to prove they are doing this.

On each one of the threads there is atleast 1 person saying that the method doesn't work. Go see for yourself, hopefully they didn't get the posts removed.

I'm not trying to prove anything, I am just warning users to beware of what they are spending they're money on.

Swole - December 19, 2013, 1:16 pm

I feel like when you buy an E-book it makes you want to start selling E-books because of how cheap it is and how easy you gain money from it. Some work but some are just way to good to be true.

BottleOWater - December 19, 2013, 1:19 pm

Ebook = Buying one will make you realized you are so stupid to believe this that you'll start selling your own to "scam" in a legit way other people like you.

AnavarGiveUp - December 27, 2013, 11:37 pm

Most ebooks are scams anyways, very few actually work.

Infinite' - December 27, 2013, 11:48 pm

This is very much true, Tesla BossRevenue was good it mentions good stuff on the amazing thread design, but as soon as you look at the e-Book it's 3-10 pages of absolute shit then he decides to talk about something good but it is only tips on how to sell an e-Book and he claims its a unsaturated method. I was very upset when I read through this. After all I was able to sell one copy of my extensive e-Book about growing YouTube channels and earn money doing so, but it is not enough as the amount of high rolling channels I had to pull into making this was somewhat very costly even though I am already friends with them. I do not believe it is fair that you can lie about vouches, because the normal account people can't sell their high quality e-Books, but these half scams can sell many copies.

Sorry, if you do not care about my problem. Just trying to express how I feel about this topic.

eBooks should not be bought on this forum anymore unless you investigate the sales thread and the seller thoroughly.

Please guys, be careful. Even if you see an eBook promising $1,000 a week or whatever, always think twice before letting greed take you over.

Lets do some math for certain lowlife sellers here. If you have 4 threads, 4 different payment proofs, from 4 different people(in this case all 4 are sellers and all 4 have sales threads). Do you have to be Einstein to figure out you were exchanging payment proofs to boost sales? No.

There is no mathematical equation where all 4 of you sold all 4 products to each other and all 4 made 500$ first day of using it while there are no other proofs in your thread at that date of making new thread.

If only you tried to hide it a bit, making post every 10 days would seem legit, but you're just greedy.

Reticulum - January 9, 2014, 5:52 am

All the people complaining about how most books don't work etc, etc. That's not really the case, I've bought several methods, and they all worked but sometimes it required a little more work than I was willing to put in. That's exactly how all the skids on this forum are, if the method isn't truly & fully 100% auto pilot they drop it and say it's "not working." There's way too many people on here that are just extremely lazy, and shouldn't even be trying to make money online with an attitude like they have. This is really off topic but I saw a few replies about fake books, etc.

On topic, this is a great thread there's tons of dick riders and honestly it's quite ridiculous.

This is a good thread and I'm glad it's here. What disgusts me the most are the staff members who remove the posts saying that it doesn't work or that it's public knowledge. The words "sales trashing" have become so skewed on this forum that staff remove every single post that isn't promoting a product, even if it's the absolute truth, and even if what the staff member is doing will make more users get scammed via public knowledge ebook. Half of the ebooks here can be found leaked simply by googling their name. If you've never bought one, and you doubt what this thread is saying, google an ebook that's been being sold for a while and you'll find it. You'll be amazed by some of the stuff put in them. One that is stickied and being sold right now literally says to sell things on craigslist and spread fake tools behind shitcash links using youtube. And that's about it. That is the quality that the ebook section has been reduced to. I'm sure there are legit ebooks here, they're just about as hard to find as a high quality FUD keylogger with owners that don't ban you for pming them.

Also, if an ebook is leaked, the method is public knowledge. and I'd say 90% or so of ebooks on here are leaked. I'm not supporting the leaking of ebooks by any means, I'm just stating a fact. If you're going to buy an ebook, make sure it's not leaked. Would you leak something that actually made you good money? I wouldn't. And every single ebook linked to in the original post is leaked. Information that is free to the public is public information. Looks like all the ebooks in the OP are public information.

Apparently a staff member thought our posts were too revealing about someone's publicknowledge-book. I mean ebook. And the reason they sell the ebooks is because they're bogus. If you could make $100+ a day with only a little effort as some of these claim, would you actually sell the method to anyone else? It's common sense. For example, look at the screenshots. Dignus's payment proof of earnings, the paypal balances are all within $10 of eachother. And on these sales threads many people have specified that the methods don't work. Now sure some of these people may be just lazy or unwilling, but I find it interesting that the only people that seem to make money off of these e-books are ub3rs within the same pool of people.

If you'd like proof, google the title of any ebook that's been sold on here for at least a month (usually less), and you will find that it's all public knowledge, even before being leaked. I don't support leaking things, and I don't do it myself, but you can't leak what's already free on google. This is true.

I've spent around $200 - $300 on ebooks on multiple forums. I've stopped buying ebooks because out of the $$ I've spent, literally about 2 ebooks worked. One of them wasn't for making more money, it was for a social media advancement. I cannot even recall the other ebook, but I remember it working. Nearly every single ebook on here is crap and won't work. LeadPlus - I see people buying this, why? I googled it and the first result gave me the whole contents of the ebook and download. Yeah that person was already banned from HF haha.

UPDATE 1/23/14.

PPD Guru's Pioneer# hiring people to give fake vouches for his E-book!
