What do you guys think?

I already re-masked it once more so now the edges of the car won't be "unedited" and I'm working on replacing the environment and adding tire smoke to it along with making the tires look like they're spinning.

Well I wanted to give it the dark gloomy look which is why I did that type of color correction. As for the motion blur, it was supposed to be meant to indicate motion in the picture.

I stated that in OP, I have to fix that. It's not in it's perfect condition. It's the small stuff that you can put aside for now. I just wanted input on how it looks.
