Honestly, this is one of the best thread designs I've seen (no one argue with me, I'm open to my own opinion) but no one seems to be buying/vouching!?

1 Thing I'd do though, I suggest you add more to your thread design, most people want to know more about your service, how can they contact you, what are you about, what are you specialized in, WHY should we even be buying from you?

Considering there's only 3 sections at the moment, it's just not enough to decide if we should buy from you, or someone else.

Good luck with sales none the less! You look like you have some mad talent!

This guy's service is amazing!

The only complaint I would have is the time this man takes to get your thread design and banner. (5 days)

But he's a full time student and the wait is worth it.

I would NOT hesitate to deal with him again.

From 1 designer to another, I think you've got something nice going here. Your design looks fairly sleek, and I really like the section headers. Mind telling me the font?

Really nice design bud, keep up the good work .

Hey man!

Thanks for the compliment :)

The font for the headers is Raleway (all caps--extra bold)

This is a very unique flat design thread I've seen in ages. Great job! It looks fucking beautiful and elegant.

I want to clarify that I don't know OP in anyway and I just happened to come across this thread by his signature (which I saw from a post he made in another section).

You charge so little for a design! It's amazing how many people aren't aware of this thread. Advertise more! More people need your unique designs.
