Thread: [\[Simple Tutorial\] How to Remove a Background](#)

chippydog - December 29, 2013, 4:52 pm

This is my first tutorial within the graphics section. I would like to point out this is a VERY simple process of deleting your background off of an image and this is the method that I use, just an alternative to photoshop NOTE: This is only for removing one thing, or things that are together, I would suggest using Photoshop to remove multiple things from a background.

Random Example (Rough):

Step 1.

Go to www.clippingmagic.com and choose the image you want to manipulate.

Step 2.

Use Foreground and Background brush to slowly erase the background off of the image.

Foreground Brush (indicated in green with + sign inside) - This brush is to be used INSIDE of the part you want kept after the image is manipulated.

Background Brush (indicated in red with - sign inside) - This brush is to be used OUTSIDE of the part you want kept after image is manipulated.

Step 3.

Download image, you're done. Simple as that!
