Thread: [\[1v1 me\] Ufotable Fate/Stay Night Remake UBW \[/discussion\]](#)

KinGxKeV - December 29, 2013, 11:01 pm

Thanks to Gladly for the massive thread layout!! (^o^)

Synopsis

"Shirou Emiya lost his parents in a fire when he was young and was later adopted by a sorcerer by the name of Kiritsugu Emiya. Although he was full of admiration for his adopted father and yearns to become an ally of justice, Shirou has limited powers and was unable to become a strong sorcerer like his father. That is until one fateful day, he was drawn into the Holy Grail War and had to summon a female "Servant" known as Saber in order to protect himself. It turns out that the Holy Grail War involves a series of battles among powerful sorcerors to fight for the possession of a relic that will grant one's wishes, the Holy Grail. There are altogether seven "Masters" who can summon their respective "Servants" from different classes known as Saber, Archer, Rider, Berserker, Lancer, Caster and Assassin. These "Servants" have to hide their names in order not to reveal their weaknesses to the enemies. The story revolves around Shirou and his entanglement in the Holy Grail War. (Source: ANN)"

Should you watch?

Yes.

Why won't you shut up about this show, Gladly?

I'm a big Type Moon fan, a big studio Ufotable fan, and a big Fate series fan. When you mix all three, I'm bound to get pretty hyped. This is the franchise's chance to fix their previous Fate/Stay Night adaptation, and make people more openly able to recommend Fate/Stay Night before watching Fate/Zero. Before, many have said "don't bother watching F/SN, and hopefully, that will no longer be the case (if this turns out to be shit, oh boy). If you have no idea what I'm talking about, then good, you're not a total weaboo.

Spoiler (Click to View) FUCKING HELL :D

Where can I watch this?

The only place you can (legally) stream it is on Crunchyroll, by clicking here. I'll let you guys find your own ways of watching it.

Edit: also watchable on Hulu, thanks Dragon for the info (I'll add a link later).

Disclaimer

I really hope this remake won't be shit.

Feel free to discuss your opinions on the show as it airs; and seriously, use spoiler tags.

New Trailer

Pulled from AA Weekly thanks for finding it and allowing me to take it :P

More info

Pulled from ANN

Quote:The ninth volume of Kadokawa's Type-Moon Ace magazine is announcing on Thursday that the new Fate/stay night anime animated by ufotable will begin airing on Japanese television this fall. Takahiro Miura (Fate/Zero, The Garden of Sinners episode director) will direct the anime, while Atsushi Ikariya, Tomonori Sudou, and Hisayuki Tabata will be adapting Takashi Takeuchi's original character designs.

Animation studio ufotable's founder Hikaru Kondo announced last July that ufotable will produce a new Fate/stay night project. Kondo did not specify the format that the new project will take, nor did he specify if the project would be a remake.

Studio DEEN previously animated the Fate/stay night television anime series in 2006. The studio also produced the Fate/stay night: Unlimited Blade Works film in 2010, which covered The Unlimited Blade Works storyline from Type-Moon's game franchise.

Sentai Filmworks released both the television anime series and the film in North America. Funimation had released the television series before that in 2009. Tokyopop published 11 volumes of Datto Nishiwaki's manga version in North America before its North American branch shut down in May 2011.

The studio ufotable previously animated the Fate/Zero prequel television anime series that was based on Gen Urobuchi and Type-Moon's novel. Aniplex of America released that series in North America on Blu-ray Disc, and the company then reissued the series on DVD and Blu-ray Disc with an English dub.

Thanks for posting Kev, they came out with a trailer too, lemme see if I can find it.

Edit: Found it:

King Cin - December 30, 2013, 4:40 am

Fate/Stay Night & Fate/Zero, are they worth it?

Really, I don't know wether I should watch them. I heard that this Gilgamesh guy is pretty awesome.

I hope the re-make will be better than the original, i can't wait to watch the re-make,

Thanks for the share Kev :)

Really looking forward to this remake; did they ever say what arc they are adapting from the VN?

I already watched Fate Stay Night but it will be worth it to watch it again only for the better animation.

Ufotable better not give Shiro the same retarded demeanor, or else it would have all been for naught.

Probably somewhere but I'm too lazy to look it up.

King~ - December 30, 2013, 5:07 pm

I was going to make a thread about this, but forgot to :3

I can't wait! F/Z imo was nearly a perfect show (maybe losing a couple points on the ending), and if ufotable can pull off the same thing with the F/SN remake, then it will be huge. That being said though, I hope they don't copy exactly what they did before, and instead try to improve/innovate.

It's hard to get someone to watch F/SN now (which is pretty bad in comparison to F/Z) and then F/Z so that the story is layed out in the way that was meant, promising that it will be worth it.

Kewl even though I haven't read the VN.

Rakshasa - December 31, 2013, 9:31 am

Made a thread about this around the time it was first announced. Funny how people suddenly got all hyped, no one gave a fuck before.

People who saw the original PV on the Mirai Fukuin premiere back in July claimed the probability of it being Heaven's Feel this time was high, though whether it being something specific in the PV that made them think so or merely the fact that Heaven's Feel is the only route that hasn't been animated isn't clear. That's all there is to the rumor, nothing has been confirmed and it could as well be a remake.

Heaven's Feel was the worst route out of the three in my opinion and I'm fairly sure most people can agree with me on that, so if I could choose I'd make them do Saber again. Would be nice if they'd stick to the main plot that FZ follows after, so that people could just watch this instead of the 2006 version. But I'll be happy with whatever they throw at me.

By the way, I highly doubt that trailer is official. Seems like mostly recycled footage from FZ and the Vita trailers for FSN.

Japanese Congress - December 31, 2013, 10:11 pm

Well, I'm really excited for this to come out! Though the fact that they're going to animate the Heaven's Feel route is a bit disappointing since I didn't enjoy it as much as Fate or UBW; regardless, I have high expectations for this remake :D

UPDATE TIME!:

<http://www.fate-sn.com/>

Looks like Jan 30th is the new release date for Ufotable's F/SN!! EXICTEDD.

ouzy91 - January 7, 2014, 1:06 pm

I can't wait for this... I cried manly tears at the end of Fate/Zero. I had the unfortunate experience of seeing F/Z before the old F/SN. Needless to say, the transition from the former to the latter was painful... I certainly hope this F/SN remake restores the franchise to its former glory in my eyes. :D

CHOO CHOO, ALL ABOARD THE HYPE TRAIN.

Seriously though, the FS/N story was mediocre. Although the visuals department of the Anime could use an upgrade.

I really hope they do a good job with this, like Ags said, F/Z would have been nearly perfect if not for the ending. Sure this can't change the ending, but at least it ends into something good.

No need to wild guess, they're just remaking the UBW arc from the visual novel (it's also a movie now). I'm guessing it will follow that.

Whaa? Have you even read what I'm talking about? xd

And UBW is not "also a movie now" it has been a movie since years now... Now the movie is gonna be Heaven's Feel.

Have I read what you're talking about? Yes, it's right here:

(Oct 2, 2014 06:45 AM)HIV5 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) They post in English from time to time on their facebook page, it's going to be "00 and 01" ep, so might be some scenes between F/Z and FSN, or maybe summoning other servants? just wild guessing thoWhich is why I said you don't need to wild guess, they're just following the UBW arc. Did you have trouble understanding something I wrote?

I know it's been a movie, that's why I brought it up in the first place (not sure why I wrote now, guess I just did).

Lastly, if you're trying to say why I made a "seperate" thread for UBW, it was because this thread was originally an announcement that another F/SN will be made (this was made almost 10 months ago) and it was just us talking about how hyped we were without spamming the lounge, and posting more news about it's release. I decided to make a dedicated discussion thread with all of the up to date details we know. Kev is the homie, if he wants me to delete it I won't hesitate to junk it. ?

HIV5 - October 4, 2014, 8:21 am

Still mate, you completely missed the point of what I'm talking about, I was just speculating what "00" ep will be exactly about, and that's nto something you can tell just by playing VN, game is few times longer than anime will be, there will be a lot of stuff cut out from there, and especially "00" ep suggest it's something out of the actual UBW :3

Rakshasa - October 6, 2014, 12:32 pm

Not sure why you'd want to use this thread for discussions as well, but oh well..

Anime of the year right here by animation alone, seriously. No anime this year has produced a fight scene of the quality of Archer vs Lancer, prove me wrong. Fucking amazing, this is why I love ufotable.

That said, I do feel there's something missing. With Fate/Zero currently standing as the cornerstone of the Fate franchise, while the animation is fucking godlike, not having both Yuki Kajiura and the Urobutcher attached to it makes it lose a lot of it's charm. I feel that the sense of danger the 4th Holy Grail War in Fate/Zero had is all but gone in Fate/Stay Night, and I'm starting to miss the coat of despair Urobuchi brought to Fate/Zero. All in all, the source material of Fate/Stay Night is a lot weaker than that of Fate/Zero, so the plot is obviously going to be underwhelming by comparison. Also, as another user mentioned on the last page, though the animation is bloody amazing, without Kajiura's soundtrack to back it up I just don't see us getting these shiver-worthy moments Fate/Zero brought us. As he said, it's like eating snickers without the peanuts. However, being a shounen at heart, Fate/Stay Night will definitely bring us a whole lot more fights scenes than Fate/Zero, so I'm staying positive and looking forward to that.

Or at least that's what I got from this first episode. Who knows, shit might surprise me later on.

Chad ThunderCock - October 6, 2014, 4:19 pm

I don't see all the hype, I found Fate Zero to be pretty mediocre and so boring that I dropped at the second season, maybe because I didn't watch F SN since I heard it was trash but still I didn't enjoy it at all other than that golden guy gilgamesh and his mongrel stuff lol

Rakshasa - October 12, 2014, 12:45 pm

Oh my god, fucking based ufotable.

Honestly, if anything the fights scenes look better than Fate/Zero. At this point even if the plot goes to shit I'll be watching this just for my weekly eyegasm.

Now I'm seriously pissed Yuki Kajiura isn't doing the soundtrack. Just imagine.. Well at least she's doing the ending theme.

I had hopes ufotable would subtly change Shirou's character without affecting the story too much, to make him even remotely likable, but after watching episode 1 it doesn't seem to be happening. Well I was prepared to suffer through his bullshit again when the remake was announced, so I can't really complain. At least this adaptation won't be a disaster like Deen's.

(Oct 12, 2014 09:52 AM)eightworks Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is every ep going to be nearly 50 min? Might be, though I doubt it. Neither the episode length nor count has been announced, so I could actually see it being either a 1 cour of 50 min episodes or 2 cour/split-cour of 25 min episodes. Considering F/Z's first episode was also 50 minutes, I'm guessing it's going to be the latter.

eight - October 12, 2014, 1:31 pm yeah but fuck it, the 50 min is worth it. I jumped out of my seat when the fight scenes began, those were crazy. When Saber showed up, everything became badass.

They haven't but from that article I listed in my post, it just said the first two episodes. If we were getting more than that, I don't think they would just specifically episodes zero and one are an hour each but not state anything about the other episodes. So do think it's going back to 24 minute episodes like in Fate/Zero.

You're right about being split-cour though.

That premieres in Spring 2015.

I just love how out of character this feels. One adorable production company indeed.

Oh and before I forget:

Akai does not mean white. Actually had to rewind my Betamax video tape to make sure I didn't read that wrong. CR seems to be doing a pretty shitty job subbing this already, might have to check out Hatsuyuki granted they're not too slow. I have very mixed experience with Hatsuyuki so I'm really not sure they're worth the wait.

Heard somewhere UTW might sub the BD releases, so there's that to look forward to.

Well, you have to remember CR's deadline for its translators. They have about a hour to sub each episode, or what CR calls "aggressive deadlines".

Yeah, I know. Since CR simulcasts most of their shows, the quality of their work can't really be expected to be flawless all the time.

Probably going to stick with HS until a better option arises, don't really feel like waiting for Hatsuyuki.

I don't think I've ever really seen them put much fan service into any of their works. One of the great parts about Fate/Zero is it was really mature in terms of having almost zero fanservice (apart from one scene). We'll probably see some when they animate the Heaven's Feel movie though.

They're doing a sublime job so far, as expected. Shirou is still a little bitch, but it's a whole lot better than Deen's catastrophe in any case. I'll get over it. A few moments here and there I wish they'd just left out, and there will inevitably be bunch of cringeworthy moments further in, but the show's merits no doubt outweigh it's defects a thousandfold.

I think the reason people want to avoid the 2006 version is that it's shitty and more comedic than UBW. You could google for some comparisons, I especially remember that scene in the stairs (ep6?)

I just caught up after not watching this for 2-3 weeks and I must say it's starting to really pick up now. Excited to see if he can be able to get good with a sword, that would be pretty cool.

I was going to make a thread about this, but forgot to :3

I can't wait! F/Z imo was nearly a perfect show (maybe losing a couple points on the ending), and if ufotable can pull off the same thing with the F/SN remake, then it will be huge. That being said though, I hope they don't copy exactly what they did before, and instead try to improve/innovate.

It's hard to get someone to watch F/SN now (which is pretty bad in comparison to F/Z) and then F/Z so that the story is layed out in the way that was meant, promising that it will be worth it.

Damn another god-tier action packed episode.

This is getting more & more awesome.

Can't wait for Latest episode was pretty dope. The fights put Mayweather's and Pacquiao's to shame.

I was laughing pretty hard after watching that scene in the episode. But I agree, it was a really good. Can't wait for the next one either.
