I like the name 'Unsold'.

It's a way of showing that you are nobody's dog, and that you are priceless. It's just a nice word in general as well.

To me, Unsold means that there is no value on it, that it exceeds any value you try to put on it.

Thanks and GLWS.

Appreciate all the support this thread is getting!

Ne?ro? - December 30, 2013, 2:37 pm

How are you going to sell these? The name change for the account+the buyer's account are 10 dollars each. 20 dollars total.

The name changes will cost more than the name itself, lol.

Roytoy - December 30, 2013, 2:40 pm

The name changes will cost more than the name itself, lol.

Which is the reason the accounts are so cheap.

If name changes were free, accounts prices would probably be doubled.

However, people who are smurfing or are new to LoL can purchase these accounts.

A person can buy an account and level it, then sell it for twice or even thrice the amount he bought it for.

There are many many things you can do with these.
