Thread: Crypting service section

Tafelpoot - December 31, 2013, 6:48 am

Hi,

I would like to see a crypting service section withing the subforum "Cryptography,Encryption and Decryption" located here : Cryptography, Encryption, and Decryption

In this section the first page is almost 2/3 filled with request for free crypting a stub or keylogger file or any other file type. Or people giving out free crypting services.

This causes the good Tutorials and Documentation on cryptography to go to page 2 where they will not or almost not be seen or reacted too causing them to fall in the background, While they have very good information in them

What do you guys think ?

No,Because why the heck are then crypters sold .If free crypting services were given No one will buy crypters , this will reduce the sales of the crypters and also will be a huge spamming section of people who want free crypting and i am sure this wont be allowed ?

It'll be filled with "Can I have a free crypt please?" and "Which is the best free crypter?"

There isn't enough than can be explored in such a narrow subforum to make it worth making.

This wouldn't be good.

Gives noobs a chance to also just send back binded rats that THEY'VE crypted, and now it's not your virus anymore but theirs.

A Thread Prefix sounds more suitable.

Allowing a thread prefix is enough for spammers.They will spam the heck out of this.

The amount of people I see joining just to request a free crypt are in the hundreds. I would only support this if it was only for upgraded members, this will reduce the spam from regular members. Even then I don't think this is a good idea, It will just encourage a lot of LQ posts requesting for free Crypts. The section would become repetitive and boring.

I think for upgraded people, this would be good. :)
